

Penn Manor's slip leaves DHS grapplers tied for 1st place in section;

Greiner, Mummau win tournament finals

It was a great week for the Donegal wrestling squad. First, Columbia upset previously undefeated Penn Manor, leaving the Indians tied for first place in the section. Then the double A grappling finals were held at DHS, and 8 Indians were advanced to the semi-finals.

Two Indians got top honors in the tournament: Greiner decisively won PV's Weaver 6-0 and Mummau pinned Steelton's Sauder in 1:39.

Sweigart advanced to the finals but lost by default.

Jones and Splain won consolation matches, and Hershey lost his on a decision.

Wrestling coach Gene Funk had this to say about the season last week:

"This year has been quite a happy surprise. There were lots of underclassmen who improved over last year and developed their skills this year. They proved themselves worthy of a co-championship. [The Indians shared it with Penn Manor.]

"Mike Greiner at 105 is undefeated in the league. Arlen Mummau in the 138 weight class is undefeated. And Brent Hershey had only one loss—he's a 185 pounder but his loss was at heavy weight. We had to move him up because our heavyweight, John Davler, was injured in the Christ-mas tournament.

"We moved everyone up to help the team, even though everyone's individual ratings were hurt.

"Scott Jones, 126, had only one loss also.

"Another thing that happened is that our sophomores kept improving. They got better and better and better throughout the season. It really helped toward the end."

Scores

Here are last week's Donegal sports scores: Girls' basketball vs. Hempfield 54-56; rifle team vs. Conestoga Valley, 483-21x - 499-32x; Jr. high wrestling vs. E-town, 32-31; basketball vs. Elco 75-74, JV 72-39; wrestlers vs. L.S. 41-13; wrestlers vs. Pequea Valley 39-20.

Hempfield squeezes past Donegal girls

Donegal was knocked out of the number one slot in Section 3 of the L-L girls' basketball league last Weds. when the Hempfield Knights defeated the Indian girls 56-54.

The game was a close, hard fought battle from the minute it began. The lead changed hands several times, and the fans at Lancaster Catholic (the playoff was held on neutral territory) were on the edge of their seats the whole time.

Donegal's ball handling, teamwork, and hustle were very impressive, but in the end, Hempfield's height and calm experience won the game.

Next year won't be nearly as exciting. The Indians are a young team, and they will probably be invincible in '78-'79. Hempfield's stars will have graduated.

The Indians were in good form last week, and it was only bad luck that gave Hempfield the title. Sherri Kinsey set up plays with devastating precision. Butch Kolp didn't get to score very often because she was double-teamed half the time, but she grabbed more than her share of rebounds from the taller Knights.

The heavy pressure on

Butch made things easier for Sharon Hershey and Tanya Merchant Sharon Albright, all of whom scored in double figures.

Butch Kolp (at left in both pictures) gave taller Hempfield girls a real battle for rebounds in last Wednesday's playoff game. Photo at right shows the height difference: the big Hempfield center thinks she has the ball, but Butch has just launched herself toward the rafters. Photo at right shows what had happened by the time the girls hit the ground; Butch has a hand on the ball and enough control to force a jump-off.
