Maytown High Class of '33

What ever happened to the class of '33? The Maytown High class of '33, that is?

Well, 36 of them and their friends and relatives got together for the 45th year reunion at Hostetter's Banquet Hall on June 3rd.

Nineteen class members attended. Six didn't make it. Four members of the class are now deceased.

Richard Eshleman served as master of ceremonies for the evening, and Alverta Musser offered the invocation. A moment of silence was observed for the four late classmates: Virginia Miller, Edith Dersler, Harold Kettering, and Ralph Gutshall.

Class advisor Mary Sarver spoke and Ben Stadey played his saxophone. Sarah Landis Forrey read a poem she wrote herself, and Rachel Engle Zabel sang the class song.

Those attending were: Mary Strickler Sarver, Alverta Musser Ebersole, Richard Eshleman, Ben Staley, Louise Lindemuth Winters, Maurice Rannels, Richard Hecht, Elizabeth Shuman Phillips, Selma Broskey Kendig, Sarah Landis Forrey, Elsie Sweitzer Ferree, Marie Hollenbaugh Black, Norman Stoner, Jacob Reapsome, Ralph Berrier, Ben Horst, Alvin Strickler, Harold Etsell, and Mable Trostle Arnold. Some came from as far away as Florida and Indiana.

Not attending were Paul Engle, Paul Forward, Mary Saylor Cage, Carl Bostic, Rachel Engle, and Erma Watt Duncan.

Maytown School Fun Fair

The 2nd annual Maytown School Fun Fair was held last Saturday despite rain showers. Above, a student tries for a prize at one of the stands.

The fair, sponsored by the Maytown PTP (Parents and Teachers in Partnership), featured food, drinks, a fish pond, duck pond, penny pitch, dunk tank, kangaroo grab bag, the Children's Delight Bake Sale, craft bazaar, yard sale, toys, games, books, records, plants for sale, balloons, bike riding, and lots of happy kids—as well as a number of happy adults.

Armstrong issues special student annual report

The current edition of Armstrong Cork Co.'s annual report is being offered in a special annotated version to students and others who want to know how a corporation reports on its activities.

The annotated report (this year's is the 6th produced) contains explanations and definitions of things like foreign currency exchange rates. It answers questions like: why is the report published?; who reads it, and why?; what do phrases like "replacement cost valuation" mean?

Educators in accounting, marketing, business and related fields can get classroom quantities of this report at no charge while the supply lasts. Single copies are also available. Write to Corporate Information, Armstrong Cork Co., Lancaster 17604.
