

DID YOU HEAR?

After last week's story about La Von Harnish's trumpet playing, the Susquehanna Times has received a petition with three signatures (many more signatures are forthcoming, the Times was promised) requesting that a contest be held at half-time during a DHS football game this fall, in which La Von's talents would pitted against those of the well-known Betty Groff of Groff's Farm Restaurant.

Both Mrs. Harnish and Mrs. Groff have established notable reputations for themselves around Mount Joy as trumpet players. Heated arguments are taking place among the fans of LaVon and Betty about who is the better trumpet tooter. The only way to settle these arguments, which are growing in intensity and rancor, states the petition, would be to stage the aforementioned contest, in which each would successively play her favorite selection, "Happy Birthday to You." The winner would be selected by crowd applause, to be measured by accurate electronic equipment supplied by Bob (formerly Marietta Mayor) Spangler of Spangler Appliance, Marietta.

Stephen C. Landis, who with his wife moved into Hess Mar Manor last Dec. 1, reports that the Manor, located near Kraybill School is continuing to grow. When the Landises moved in there were only 7 homes completed; now there are 13. Thirty homes are planned for the area. The Landises are making many new friends in their new neighborhood, a lot of them people who moved here from other parts of the country.

Earl Miller will celebrate his 86th birthday on October 20. Earl and his brother John D. Miller, were for many years associated together in Miller Brothers, well-known local roofers.

The business was founded in 1892 by Earl and John's father and their father's brother. It is now being carried on by Earl's son Raver. Miller Brothers is perhaps the oldest going business to remain in one family in Mount Joy.

If anyone knows of another ongoing local business which has been in the same family for a long, or a longer time, would that person please send the information to "Did You Hear," Susquehanna Times, Box 75A, R.D. 1, Marietta, PA, 17547.

In fact, send us any interesting items you may have. Or, phone them in: 653-8383 or 426-2212.
