"More Than Meets the Eye"

"More Than Meets the Eye" will be the theme for the second annual Art Sunday to be held throughout the greater Lancaster area on October 8, from noon to 5:00 PM.

Many galleries, colleges, and other groups will participate in the event; most exhibits will be free, but the three museums will charge their usual fees.

Brochures detailing the exhibits and giving directions will be available at each institution. Also, P.J. Matthews, the downtown restaurant, will be open for a special Art Sunday lunch.

The program was begun by the Community Gallery of Lancaster County, this area's only public art museum. The purpose of Art Sunday is to focus community attention on the many and varied art programs, exhibits, and artists in this area.

Participating are: the Community Gallery, F&M College, the North Museum, the Heritage Center of Lancaster County, the Jewish Community Center, the Lancaster County Art Association, Marion Art Gallery, Millersville State College's Ganser Gallery, the Sykes Gallery, the Rock Ford Manor House, Kauffman Museum, the Spanish Center, the Tremellen Gallery, and Wheatland.

Unique features of the new town are: houses are located to take advantage of solar heat; the town center is grouped around a village green; pedestrians can cross the town center without crossing streets (especially desirable for the elderly who will have their own community on the edge of the town center).

Despite all the hard work and sleepless nights, Ferguson says about the project, "The opportunity to plan a whole town is one that comes only once in a lifetime."

Before moving to May-town, Dr. Ferguson was on the faculty at the School of Architecture at Columbia University in New York City. He designed the city of Nassau in the Bahamas, Villa Riva in the Dominican Republic, and master plans for New York City and Minneapolis.

British decadence import fails

An attempt to import Britain's latest youth subculture to DHS fizzled during a recent soccer game between the Indians and Pequea Valley.

In England, the "ends" (stands behind the goals) in football (soccer) stadiums, are packed with "football hooligans," whose antics have inspired headlines like "Youths Rampage," "Crush These Mad Hooligans," and "Is This the End of Western Civilization?"

Football rowdies, hooligans, and (in extreme cases) "nutters," have replaced Teddy Boys, Mods, Rockers, Skinheads and Punks as the latest organized assault on adult society, in Britain.

However, in Mount Joy, nobody really noticed the flaming youths.

"There's going to be a rumble!" a friendly-looking group of DHS freshmen told our photographer.

"Look out," said another. "Here comes Mr.

Depoe."

Ken Depoe calmly shooed the aspiring rowdies away from the Pequea Valley stands, where the outnumbered PV rowdies were cowering high in the bleachers, and Donegal's first "football riot" ended with no damage to anybody.

The retreating rowdies paused in the "end" to accuse the PV goalie of being, among other things, a "turkey."
