FIFTEEN CENTS

Hours for Trickin' or Treatin' —and careful driving

Halloween is coming, and many children will be out Trick or Treating. The local officials have set hours for this. They ask that motorists drive very carefully while our kids are out wandering around the streets. Here are the Trick or Treat hours:

Maytown and East Donegal Township—October 30th, from 6:00 to 9:00 PM.

Marietta—October 30, 7:00 to 9:00 PM.

Mount Joy—October 31st, 6:00 to 9:00 PM.

Drive carefully.

EEEEEEEEEEK!!

The Marietta Jaycees have been hard at work in the old school, getting ready for the scariest "Scream in the Dark" to date.

Here are some of the scarifying things that are in store for anyone brave enough to go:

—a giant spider (and a BIG spider web!);

—a public hanging; a psychedelic, mind-blowing, strobe-lit, and disorienting checker board room;

—a creaky, swaying bridge over a black pit;

—a silver room, with shiny walls, floor, and ceiling;

—the Maze, in which screaming youngsters have been lost for up to an hour at a time (help will be at hand if anyone really wants to get out, however);

—an indoor graveyard; —a severed head, suspended in space (one of the Jaycees); —and eerie, spooky, horrifying, alarming, dreadful, awful, creepy sound effects in each room.

The only lighting will be candlelight and black light.

"Scream in the Dark" starts October 21st, and continues on most nights (there won't be any on the night of the parade) till October 31st. Tickets will be available at the door.

The 24th annual Jaycees Halloween Parade will be held on October 23rd this year. There will be prizes, floats, goblins, witches, and real live—er, dead—ghosts. So don't miss it.

The parade starts at 6:00 PM at Riverview School. Be there.

Supervisors and police on good terms again in East Donegal Township

The East Donegal Police and the Supervisors have made up.

The atmosphere in the meeting room during the supervisors' meeting last week was very relaxed, in contrast to the tensions which filled the air during last month's meeting. At that time, the police had threatened to quit if the supervisors ignored their needs any longer.

Both president John H. Brubaker and chief of police George Shirk read statements expressing their satisfaction with the way things had been resolved.

Few citizens attended the meeting, as is usual. Chief Shirk was in uniform, not dressed as he was at the last meeting in civilian clothes.

Before reading the supervisors' statement, president Brubaker made some remarks. "I think we live in a negative world," he said philosophically. He was glad, he said, that something positive had come out of the meeting between the police and supervisors.

The statement read: "The Supervisors of East Donegal Township met with the three members of the Township Police Department on Tuesday, September 26, 1978, at 7:30 P.M.

"By unanimous decision the Supervisors voted to have the members of the force continue in their current capacities.

"The matter of necessary equipment and supplies was discussed to the satisfaction of both parties. Establishing a line of communication was recognized as a necessary factor to operate smoothly in the future.

"The past is behind us—we look to the future with a desire to have East Donegal Township a pleasant and safe place to live and work."

The statement was signed by all three supervisors. Chief Shirk read the police statement next. It read:

"On September 26th, a lengthy meeting was held with our three supervisors to discuss the various problems encountered by the East Donegal Township Police Department. Each problem was thoroughly reviewed in a most orderly fashion.

"The attitude of each supervisor was one of genuine interest and a willingness to understand and remedy the problems within reasonable limits. I have consulted the officers and it is our unanimous feeling that very fair consideration was shown by each of the three supervisors.

"I am quite confident that we will not experience any difficulties of this sort in the future. It is a pleasure for me to be able to make this statement."

The five citizens and two reporters in the audience applauded after the statements had been read.

The supervisors then went on to other business.

Parks commissioner Leas asked if the kitchen in the park will get built this year. Lloyd Fuhrman said that this is up to the Authority. Bids will be let out for the work, but contractors are very busy, and no offers may be made.

The Maytown Youth Organization asked for permission to use a room in the township building for meetings. They were given the go-ahead on condition that they not let children run unsupervised through the building. The meetings will take place on the 4th Monday of each month at 7:30 PM.

A tract of land south of Route 441, near Wyeth Labs, was rezoned from industrial to highway commercial. The vote was unanimous.

The ordinance against disorderly conduct will be used against loiterers who cause trouble. This was brought up in regard to the

Marietta Borough Council Smoke, destruction, fines, more

Marietta Borough Council last week condemned a house to destruction, set up a meeting on the loitering problem along Market Street, and discussed increasing fines and requiring smoke detectors in apartments.

Borough sidewalks

"Sidewalks in front of Borough Hall and the Jaycees center will be rebuilt by Bob Smith, Inc., at a cost of $9,128.

Restoration report

Ken Ross, of the Restoration Associates, reported on the Union Meeting House reconstruction. Digging has been conducted for several weeks on Saturdays, he said, and the tower will be removed from the building on the recommendation of their architect, Jerry Martin.

Jaycees to hold road rally

The Mount Joy Jaycees will be holding their annual Road Rally on Sunday, October 29, at the Mount Joy Vo-Tech School. Registration will start at 1:30 p.m., and the first car will leave at 2:30.

The 43½ mile course will cover some of the most scenic roads in northern Lancaster and southern Lebanon counties. Cars will be inspected before the race and demerits will be given for inadequacies in lights, signals, tires, etc. Participants will be given clues to follow the course through assigned check-points.

There will be a $5.00 donation which will include refreshments at the end of the Rally. First and second winners will receive trophies. There is a limit of 4 adults or one family per car.

The Road Rally is a good way to enjoy some friendly competition and have the fun with your family and neighbors on a Sunday afternoon while you watch the beautiful autumn scenery. You may even win a trophy!
