St. Joe's to hold open house for future nurses

Information on hospital careers will be provided to interested young people at an Open House to be held at St. Joseph Hospital and Health Care Center Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 18, 1978, from 9:00 AM to 3:30 Pm.

Representatives of the Hospital's Schools of Nursing, Medical Technology, Radiologic Technology, and Respiratory Therapy will be available during the day to provide information and guidance to those considering health careers.

The four schools operated by St. Joseph Hospital, plus a school of anesthesia for registered nurses, enroll a combined total of almost 200 students at the present time. The programs vary in length and some are affiliated with area colleges.

No reservation is necessary. For further information, contact Mildred Sauder, St. Joseph Hospital School of Nursing.

Christine Spickler

Christine Spickler wins scholarship

Christine Kay Spickler has won the Century III Leaders Scholarship competition at Donegal High School, according to Mr. John W. W. Loose, Social Studies Department Head.

The 17-year-old senior is now eligible to compete with other high school seniors throughout Pennsylvania for two $1,500 scholarships, two $500 scholarships, and also for a $10,000 national scholarship that will be awarded in a conference of state winners in historic Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Spickler of R. D. 2, Mount Joy, PA. During her schooling at Donegal High School she has been active in athletics such as hockey, tennis, and track. Her extra curricular school activities include band, dramatics club, and student council. Christine has also been active in the youth group of her church, serving as its president in 1977, and as the church's delegate to the 4-H conference at Pen State.

The two Pennsylvania winners will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the third annual Century III National Leadership Seminar in Williamsburg, March 1-6, 1979, to participate in seminars on current issues. In previous years, speakers at these seminars were such notables as news commentator Howard K. Smith, architect/futurist Buckminster Fuller, and anthropologist Rene Dubos.

The program is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and funded by Shell Oil Company.

Spare that pole!

There are thousands of utility poles in Pennsylvania Power & Light Co.'s service area, and a fall from any of them could cause serious injury to a lineman.

That's why, as November 7 and the general election draw near, PP&L is asking again that political interests refrain from using utility poles as supports for their posters.

Putting posters on utility poles is dangerous because an unauthorized tack, staple or other fastener can deflect a climbing hook, causing a lineman to fall. It's also a criminal violation

--a summary offense--in Pennsylvania.

Although PP&L crews often use bucket trucks for maintaining the company's lines, personnel still do climb poles when the occasion warrants. With so many poles in the PP&L service area, the potential for accidents could be magnified at election time.

"Fortunately," said PP&L Safety Director, W. E. Tobias Jr., "the public has been heeding our message. We're seeing fewer campaign posters on our poles, but continuing cooperation is needed. Our linemen are counting on it."

CHUCK BOOHAR... "For 124 years one party has controlled the area's seat in Congress. It is time to reestablish competition, not only in private industry, but also in the area's electoral process."

CHUCK BOOHAR... "If elected, I will seek appointment to the House Agricultural Committee, to work to increase agricultural exports and net farm income without increasing government subsidies."

CHUCK BOOHAR... "We need Federal financial support for major highway construction and for preservation of our historic landmarks."
