If you see Clay Seifert walking around in his best suit, but with his shirttail out, it means Cindi hasn't fixed his zippers yet. In fact, she is willing to exchange a craft project to someone who can replace zippers in men's slacks. Call Cindi if you are interested.

Zoonappers in Moscow

[reprinted from Conservation News]

Moscow Zoo officials are a little paranoid these days and for good reason. Kidnappers in search of exotic pets have spirited away a deer in a taxi, a 90-pound turtle and a king penguin that managed to find its way back to the zoo via a subway ride. Could they possibly have their eyes on an elephant?
