...school board

February. J.C. Snavely has donated materials for it.

Mr. Duke reported on taxes.

The board granted a sabbatical leave to Warren P. Rupp, a Maytown 6th grade teacher. Rupp has been ill.

Mrs. Winifred L. Geyer, a Seiler teacher, was granted an unpaid leave of absence for child rearing.

R.S. Shaeffer resigned as high school custodian.

Shop construction modules (miniature houses), built by junior high shop students, are for sale. They are cheap, sturdily built, and have floors. They measure 8' x 8'. Call Beahm Junior High if you want to buy one at $300.

United Disposal was awarded the trash removal contract. Their bid was much lower than that of the other bidder, Rosebud.

The I.U. 13 Joint Authority idea was discussed.

The I.U. 13 joint insurance program asked the board to indicate its interest in either (1) group self insurance, (2) self insurance by Donegal alone, or (3) buying health insurance as is now done. They discussed the matter and decided on number 3.

The Heidler Roofing Co., whose roof repairs at Donegal High School are still leaking, had its insurance company investigate. They informed the board that Heidler was not at fault. The board discussed having an attorney look into the matter.

The next meeting of the discipline committee, headed by Jere Duke, will be held on February 27th. A report is expected in March.

The board received an estimate on resurfacing the high school track and converting its markings from feet to meters. It will cost $15,000, about half of that for metrification.

Some board members felt the price for remarking in meters was too high. The matter was sent to committee for study.

Seven high school windows were broken on November 20th.

The high school tennis courts are still unlit at night. Mr. Hallgren hopes a sponsor will pay for the electricity to run the now idle court lights.

Two requests for tax exoneration were turned down. One was from a college student, the other had no explanation.

Labels

Seiler kids want them

Students at Seiler Elementary School are collecting tin can labels, which they will redeem to get new equipment for the school.

They would appreciate it if you could save these labels for them: any Campbell's soups, beans, tomato juice, V-8 juice, or any Franco-American products.

Just give the labels to any Seiler School student.
