Marietta Presbyterian gets new members

Four people were accepted into the English United Presbyterian Church, Marietta, on the first Sunday in Advent. The new members were taken into the church by the pastor, Rev. Thomas S. Wood.

Mrs. Marion Holby, Richard Hendershot, and James Drager were accepted on confession of faith. Mrs. Marion Holby Miller joined by reaffirmation.

The service of Holy Communion was observed.

"A Most Memorable Night" at St. Mark's

Youth and adults will present the drama, "A Most Memorable Night," on Sunday, December 17th, at 7:00 PM.

Using the theater in the round concept, the drama depicts the angels attempt to plan the first Christmas by themselves.

The public is invited to attend. Christmas Carols will be sung and refreshments will be served.

Cantata at Florin Church of the Brethren

The Senior Choir of the Florin Church of the Brethren, located at 815 Bruce Ave., Mount Joy, will present John Peterson's Cantata: "Night of Miracles" during the morning worship hour on Sunday, December 17 at 10:10 AM.

The cantata will feature several soloists from the choir. The narrator will be David Brubaker with Sylvia Weaver directing the choir.

Wm. Endslow gets energy-saver award

William S. Endslow, Marietta, received a Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. Energy Efficient Home Builder Award on Dec. 1 for including numerous energy-saving features in homes built in Country Village, Maytown.

The award is part of PP&L's "Energy Efficient Home" program, which encourages builders to place increased emphasis on energy conservation in residential construction. It was presented to Endslow by Robert L. Fish, Jr., residential consultant in PP&L's Lancaster Division.

The Energy Efficient Home program incorporates PP&L's standards for insulation and heating and cooling systems, and the award recognizes builders who complete five qualifying homes within a year.

The minimum insulation requirements included in the program are those which PP&L asked the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in April to allow it to make mandatory in all new residential structures before electrical hookup.

If all the requirements are met, the program provides a certificate with which the builder can verify to a new homeowner that the house being purchased qualifies as a PP&L Energy Efficient Home.

"By stressing conservation in their construction, builders such as Mr. Endslow will save consumers money in the long run," said Fish. "Conservation is the key, and their efforts will help PP&L in its commitment to reduce the growth in consumption of electricity."

The Endslow development in Maytown will eventually comprise 30 townhouses and four units of two semi-detached homes each.
