Farm statistics

A recent government report discloses these statistics on U.S. farming:—about six percent of all farms produced 53 percent of the produce last year;—“small” farms, with gross sales under $20,000, comprise 70 percent of all farm businesses, but produce only 11% of all cash receipts;

—the two percent of American farms that are “industrialized” (run by a non-family manager or hiring more than 1.5 hands) account for 15-20 percent of all cash receipts.

Farming is becoming less and less of a family business.

Rosses' slide show to be seen by Strasburg group

Ken and Linda Ross of Marietta will present their slide/music show, entitled “Marietta: An Architectural Gallery,” at the January 15 meeting of the Strasburg Heritage Society. The program is open to the public. It will be held at 8:00 PM in the Education Room of the First Presbyterian Church, South Decatur Street.

Mayor Gingrich recommended Earl Kean of Elizabethtown as a part-time policeman. The mayor said that Kean is a police science major at York College, comes from a family of policemen, and is willing to take the required 180 hours of police training on his own time. Kean was later approved.

A letter of resignation from Joe Bateman was read, effective January 2nd. A motion to accept the resignation was defeated, however.

The reason was that Council felt there might be an implication of conflict of interest under the new state law governing elected and appointed borough officials. After deciding that they had the power to do so, Council approved a motion to accept Mr. Bateman's resignation effective December 31st.

Albert Kleiner was voted in as acting borough manager, and took his place at the table. Mindy Liggins, who works in the borough office, was named acting zoning officer. (Mr. Bateman had held this position as well.)

The hiring of Gary Gallagher as a full-time police officer, replacing Dale Good, was approved. Councilman Zeller, whose committee picked Mr. Gallagher, said, “He's the only one [who applied] that's really qualified.” No other applicant, Zeller said, had experience as a working policeman.

It was decided to buy a new police cruiser, a full sized Ford LTD II, for $5715.49. It is a standard police-modified car with two options: a larger engine and a rear window defroster.

A letter from the Merchants Association was sent to council. It concerned the parking area behind Sloan's Pharmacy. No action was taken. The matter will be studied.

Council spent some time discussing how the borough could get a bigger slice of the Community Development Funding pie this year.
