Charles Reynolds, executive secretary of medical college in India, to speak at Donegal Presbyterian

Charles Reynolds, executive secretary of the Ludhiana Christian Medical College board since 1965, will be the speaker at the Summer medical missions meeting at Donegal Presbyterian Church following a family covered-dish supper, Monday, July 16, at 6 p.m.

Ludhiana, one of the major medical institutions of India, has been a Donegal mission interest for some years. The 700-bed hospital trains more than 300 doctors and 200 nurses annually, and treats 350,000 patients.

Dr. Reynolds, a native of Belfast, Ireland, served in the Royal Air Force 1941-46, and while in the India-Burma theater, met and married an American missionary, Maud M. Hibbard. They served as missionaries for three years in an isolated jungle district of central India. An ordained minister of the United Methodist Church, he has written and directed two documentary films, published two books, and written numerous magazine articles.

Dr. Reynolds has visited India annually since 1965, and maintained close relationships with government, church, and business leaders there, and is thus able to interpret the current Indian scene. He annually takes a tour group to visit medical mission centers in India.

During the Monday program, overseas sewing completed by the Women's Association of the church will be dedicated by Mrs. James Hindman. Mrs. Jay Heisey is in charge of devotions. Hostesses will be Mrs. Jeffrey Brian, Mrs. Robert Dunkelberger and Mrs. Rollin Steinmetz.
