Free lectures on 'Amish and Mennonite Life'

A series of free lectures on "Amish and Mennonite Life" will be offered to the public beginning on Monday, July 16 at The People's Place, in Intercourse. The 30-minute lectures will be presented every day except Sundays at 1 PM in the Courtyard. They will continue through Labor Day.

"We are attempting to offer serious lectures by qualified staff members," explained Merle Good, executive director of The People's Place. "We expect both visitors and local persons to attend." The lectures will be followed by a question-and-answer period.

The schedule is as follows:

Mondays: "An Amish View of Education" led by Merle Good.

Tuesday: "Amish and Mennonite Quilting" by Ruth Smoker.

Wednesdays: "Dress Patterns Among the Various Groups" led by Phyllis Good.

Thursdays: "How Did These People Get Started?" led by Joanne Ranck.

Fridays: "Foods among the Amish and Mennonite Peoples" led by Rachel Thomas Pellman.

Saturdays: "What are the Main Differences and Similarities among the Various Amish and Mennonite Groups?" led by Kenneth Pellman.

These free lectures are open to anyone, daily except Sundays at 1PM through Labor Day, in the Courtyard at The People's Place along Main Street in Intercourse. They will be held on the porch in case of rain. For information call 768-7171.
