

DID YOU HEAR

David Leas of Marietta had a letter to the editor published recently in the Lancaster Newspapers, suggesting that nuclear officials prove TMI water is safe by drinking some of it on prime time TV. "This would be more convincing than their insulting newspaper advertisements," Mr. Leas wrote.

He added that he has sent them a check for $25 to help cover their expenses, matching Commissioner Tracy's check to have the water transported to their drinking water system.

Elaine Holden of Mount Joy, who is president of the Historical Preservation Trust of Lancaster County, will attend the Pennsylvania Planning Association Conference in Lancaster on Sept. 16-18. She will speak on starting historic preservation programs as part of a panel.

Nancy Jo Greenwalt, of RD1 Mount Joy, has been appointed graduate assistant in the physical ed. department at Albright College, starting Sept. 1.

She will teach courses and coach varsity volleyball, badminton, and tennis.

Ms. Greenwalt will later attend Penn State for a master's degree in phys ed.

The Mount Joy Historical Society has published a book of questions for kids to ask their grandparents. The Historical Society hopes the book will promote oral history.

You can order a copy of the "Grandparents Book" by contacting O.K. Snyder, 525 W. Main St., Mount Joy.

Spec. 5 Dennis McNece, whose wife, Rosanna, lives at RD1 Bainbridge, was recently assigned as a cook with the 20th Field Artillery at Fort Carson, Colo.

His mother, Mrs. Elsie J. McNece, lives at 33 E. High St., Maytown.

The specialist's father, Thurman C. McNece, lives at 14 Mount Joy St., Mount Joy.

Welcome Wagon future meetings

The first meeting of the 1979-1980 year was held on August 1st at the home of the president, Sue Binkle.

Gail Huff, membership chairman, reported that a tea was held at her home on July 25th. There were 7 members and 7 guests present. We hope to see these girls at our first meeting.

The first vice president, Pat Neher, announced the programs for the upcoming year.

Sept.—dinner meeting, gift wrapping demonstrations.

Oct.—joint meeting with joycee-ettes, hypnotist.

Nov.—mystery dinner, Chinese auction.

Jan.—skin care and make up by Shaklee Products.

Feb.—travel slide presentation.

March—white elephant sale.

April—covered dish dinner, cake decorating demonstration.

May—installation dinner.

The treasurer, Rita Boger, submitted the proposed budget of $936. To meet the budget, Ways and Means chairman Karen Rhoads has lots of plans. Current stationary and Lincoln House products will be available. She also plans to compile a cookbook of members' favorite recipes, for sale before Christmas. At the September meeting she will be raffling off two one pound mystery boxes.

Lori Dubiel announced that the annual fund raiser will be a fashion show/card party to be held in the spring.

Socials, as planned by Donna Gish, will include bowling, horse races, Christmas parties, Easter egg hunt and others.

Letter to editor

Dear Editor: Workmen's Compensation is crushing the Pennsylvania business community. Business is becoming hostile to Pennsylvania. 193,000 less people are employed in Pennsylvania today from 10 years ago.

The reform must come from the legislature. Our meat association has joined the Ad Hoc Committee Combined. We represent thousands of Pennsylvania businesses.

This will be a vital piece of legislation, so I trust you will be interested enough to keep abreast.

Sincerely,
John Henry Brubaker
Secretary,
Pennsylvania Association of Meat Processors

We will again be visiting the Schock Home on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of each month. A raffle drawing at the November meeting will be held for a $50 gift certificate. The proceeds from this raffle will go to benefit community services.

A new committee, called S.O.S., has been formed. Its purpose is to provide emergency services to club members. If a member is sick or hospitalized, or has a death in the family, or their husband is out of town and they need help they just call S.O.S. Margaret Bowers, 653-1335, will arrange for babysitting, meals, cleaning, shopping, etc.

This year promises to be a fun-filled, fantastic year. If you are new in the area, have a new baby, or are newly engaged, please contact our hostesses Pat Burton, 653-1963, or Cherie Dillow, 653-1609.
