Zion Lutheran Nursery School re-enacts Thanksgiving

The First Thanksgiving was re-enacted on Wednesday by the students, teachers, and room mothers at Zion Lutheran Nursery School, Marietta.

The children used placemats they had watercolored, turkeys made from paper plates and candles to decorate their table.

The children wore Indian headbands that they had made. Mrs. Becky Von Stetten (room mother) wore full Indian dress and Mrs. Cheryl K. Ronan (teacher) dressed as a pilgrim. Together they acted out the story of the first Thanksgiving after having it read to them.

Room mothers Mrs. Carole Keim, Mrs. Jean Maurer and Mrs. Becky Von Stetten helped the children to make biscuits and butter and to make turkeys out of apples. They also helped with games.

Everyone then sat down to a Thanksgiving feast consisting of biscuits and butter, pumpkin cookies (made by the children) and punch.

While seated around the candlelit table the children joined hands and each told of one thing for which he or she was especially thankful.

Kim and Sharon to perform at Crossroads

Kim and Sharon, a vocal group composed of two housewives, will present a program of Christian music on Sunday, Dec. 2nd, at 7:00pm at the Cross Roads Church, Mount Joy.

Kim and Sharon have been singing together since September. They met at the Wesleyan Church in Frackville, where they had worshipped and sung in church together for three years.

The Sharon half of Kim and Sharon is Sharon Morin, of Frackville. She is the organist at her church. Mrs. Kim Gello, from Barnesville, Pa., is the other half.

Kim has a B.A. degree in music education from Messiah College (1972). She has toured with Re-Entry, a faith music group consisting of six Messiah College graduates.

Kim and Sharon sing to taped accompaniment. Their music can be described as contemporary gospel. Their repertoire includes favorites by Bill Gaither and Andrea Crouch.

You are invited to share in this evening of music. The program is sponsored by Christ's Crusaders.
