He is survived by his wife and two sons: Thomas M. of Harrisburg, and Michael, State College; three sisters: Betty, wife of Mark Ash, Columbia, Md.; Nancy, wife of Tony Wilford, Earleville, and Louise, wife of W.L. Steward, Marco Island, Fla.; two grandchildren; and a stepmother, Mrs. Marion Long of Shamokin.

Parents:

Read to

Your Child

Parents: Do you want to make a new year's resolution that will benefit both you and your child? Resolve to set aside some time each day to read to your child. Just fifteen minutes a day can make a big difference in a child's life. Reading to your child can bring a special warmth to both of you all year round. So resolve to spend some time each day sharing love and reading with your child. It could be the best new year's resolution that you ever make. This message is brought to you by Donegal Reading Program and The International Reading Association.
