

December 19, 1979

DID YOU HEAR

§§§
William B. Kushubar, Bainbridge, received his Master of Administration degree from Penn State Capitol Campus on Saturday, December 8. He was one of 30 students receiving master's degrees at the fall commencement exercises.

§§§
Bruce Alan Neyer of Mount Joy participated in three presentations of the special Christmas program at Bob Jones University, Greenville, South Carolina.

A 1976 graduate of Donegal High School, Mr. Neyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Neyer of 306 Birchland Ave., Mount Joy. He is a senior majoring in music education.

§§§
Several local students were named to the dean's list for the Fall term at Penn State/York Campus. Attaining a perfect 4.0 grade point average during the term was Jeffrey L. Showers, 278 Rivermoor Drive, Marietta.

Also named to the dean's list were Jeffrey S. Bryant, 269 West Walnut St., Marietta and Kenneth E. Prescott, Bainbridge R.D. #1.

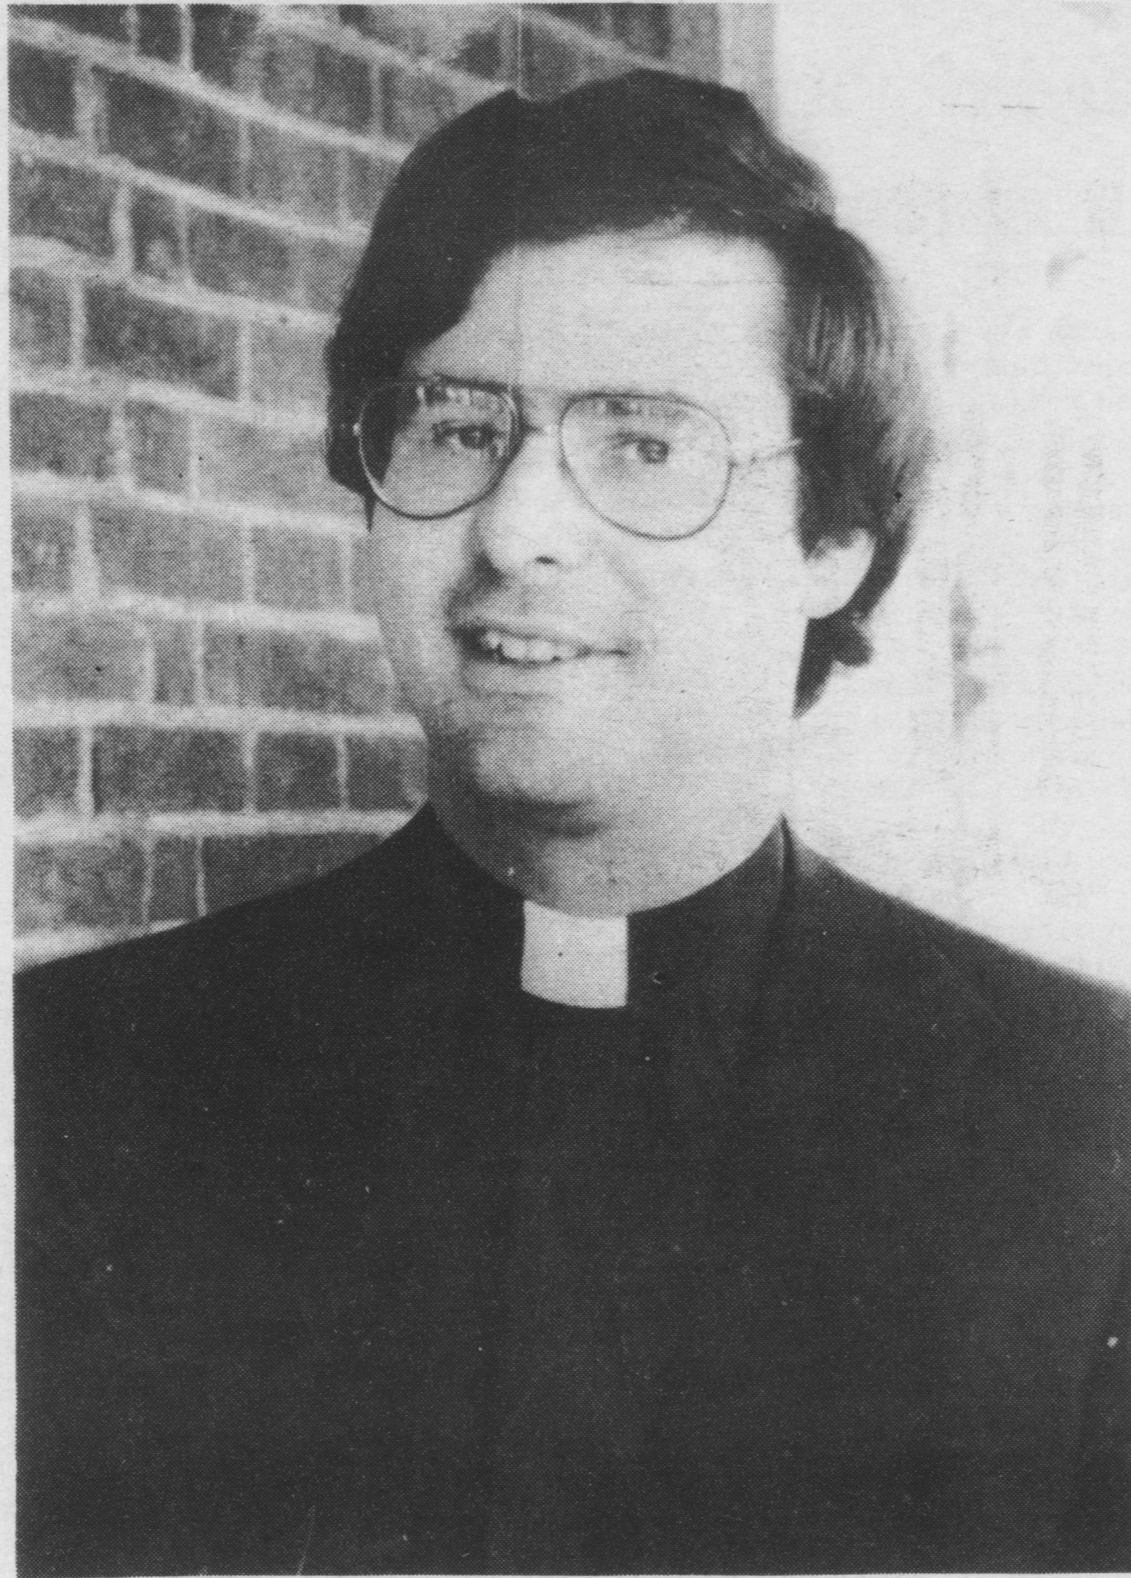

§§§
Vicki J. Merchant, R.D.1, Mount Joy, will receive an Associate of science degree from York College of Pennsylvania. Commencement exercises will be held Thursday, December 20.

§§§
Pfc. Barbara J. Weidman, daughter of Mrs. Lois L. Weidman, 39 Penn Court Drive, Mount Joy, Pa., recently reenlisted for three years in the Army while serving as a unit mail clerk with the 328th Army Security Agency Company in Augsburg, Germany.

§§§
There will be a First Showing Art Show at the Elizabethtown Hospital for Children and Adults in Elizabethtown, Pa., by Laura M. Jenkinson, an unknown self-taught local artist. The show will be open for the entire month of January, 1980.

For further information please call the Hospital or 367-0435.

§§§
Rama Sell, Marietta, is one of the Ad Copy Editors of The Daily Pennsylvanian, the newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania.

Rev. Robert Lescallete

Rev. Robert Lescallete

Rev. Robert Lescallete, the forty-second pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Maytown, came here directly after graduating from Gettysburg Seminary. It has been customary, he says, for the Maytown church to be the first charge in the careers of its ministers.

Before coming here he served his vicarage at Salem Lutheran in Lebanon, a very large church. As part of his theological training he studied at St. Paul's College in Washington, D.C., and took courses at Catholic University.

Rev Lescallete was born in Harrisburg and grew up in Paxtang, a suburb of Harrisburg. His father a civil engineer and vice-president of a construction company, was from Pittsburgh. Rev. Lescallete's mother, however, was a native of Harrisburg.

Rev. Lescallete has a sister, Diane, who is married to Dr. Emerson Knight, a urologist now serving in the Air Force. Mrs Knight was a nurse at Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg when she met her future husband. The Knights have a son, Michael.

Dr. Knight, a native of Penryn, PA, would like to practice his specialty of urology in Lancaster County, if possible, when he leaves the Air Force soon.

Robert Lescallete's decision to become a minister was "a gradual realization of the pieces of a puzzle beginning to fit together."

He was graduated from Central Dauphin East High School, then attended Dickinson College. His third year in college he studied at the University of Bologna in Italy, one of the oldest, if not the oldest university in the world. While studying in Italy he lived with an Italian family, and before he returned to the U.S. he got to see a great deal of Europe.

In college he majored in political science and was thinking of entering the foreign service. He took and passed the examination for the foreign service, but getting into the foreign service is a very long process. As further preparation for his chosen career, Lescallete, applied to enter and was accepted at the law school of American University in Washington, D.C.

About this time, the war in Vietnam was being de-escalated, but young men were still being drafted; Lescallete had a rather early number in the lottery, and, instead of waiting to be drafted, he enlisted in the Air Force. In the Air Force he became a medical administration specialist, stationed at Andrews Air Force Base. In the Air Force, Lescallete had time to think. He also had some good conversations with people, one of them an

[continued on page 13]

Xmas tree stolen

The huge display Christmas tree in front of Herr's Fruit Stand at Routes 743 and 441 in Marietta was stolen Monday night—presumably by someone with a very large vehicle (the Norway spruce was about 20 feet tall and 10 feet wide) and a very small amount of Christmas spirit.

Martha Herr, owner of the tree, says of the theft, "If they can live with it, we can live without it."

20 % OFF
EVERYTHING

Thru Sunday December 23

SORRY NO DELIVERIES OR
LAY-AWAYS AT THESE PRICES

OPEN SUNDAY 12-5

SHOP SHELLY'S FURNITURE
Phone 684-3780      237 Locust St., Columbia
free delivery

HEINEMAN'S

will be out of business
by Christmas

Selections still good but stocks are selling lower daily

EVERY ITEM IN STORE DRASTICALLY REDUCED

Cash Only

HEINEMAN'S

247 Locust Street, Columbia