Donegal school district participates in Educational Quality Assessment

On February 26 of this school year, Donegal will be participating in the Educational Quality Assessment (EQA) program administered by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

The EQA program is provided as a service to the school district. Donegal volunteered for the program to get information for future decision-making.

Students' performance on Pennsylvania's Goals of Quality Education serve as the basis for the statewide assessment and presently include 14 areas: Self-Esteem, Understanding Others, Reading, Writing, Mathematics, Interest in School and Learning, Societal Responsibility, Knowledge of Law/Government, Health and Safety Practices, Creative Activities, Career Awareness, Appreciating Human Accomplishments, Knowledge of Human Accomplishments, and Information Usage.

Donegal is one of over 150 school districts which has volunteered for the assessment this year and 1,100 plus schools will receive their EQA results next fall. Along with those from Donegal, about 150,000 5th, 8th and 11th grade students throughout the Commonwealth will be completing EQA questionnaires.

The assessment is not a device to attempt to standardize the curriculum. It gives schools information about what their students know and feel, their teachers' perception of the school, and how these scores compare to those in schools throughout the Commonwealth. The key word is information-value judgments are left to the local school officials. More specifically, the survey considers the interests, values, habits, knowledge and basic cognitive skills thought to be important in the development of our children. Students do not put their names on their answer sheets so there is no record of how any individual performs on the assessment.

Teachers also respond to a questionnaire concerning school conditions and teacher experience. All of the information received is combined with additional background information on file in the state Department of Education to form the school report. A report will be compiled for each school to give us objective information about how our schools compare to others throughout the state and, moreover, to other schools that are similar to ours. Such hard data are necessary to combat the folklore and testimonial aspect of the usual assurances that one has a good school.
