STOP ENERGY LEAKS

Now's the time to stop the energy leaks in your home. Conduct a "Do-It-Yourself Energy Audit."

PP&L has prepared an easy-to-understand checklist for you to use throughout your home—from attic to basement—to see just how energy efficient it really is. The form also shows how to check for insulation, caulking, weatherstripping, air infiltration and thermostat settings.

You'll be able to tell where energy is being wasted and, at the same time, find out if your home qualifies for membership in the National Energy Watch (NEW).

NEW was organized by electric utilities across the nation to give special recognition to homes that meet or exceed certain energy standards.

To get your free "Do-It-Yourself Energy Audit" form, simply fill out and mail the coupon.
