Page 6—SUSQUEHANNA TIMES

Washington (cont.)

[continued from back page] A box lunch will be available at one of the embassies for $5 each in advance, if desired.

Reservations for this tour may be placed with Mrs. Pat Shearer, 113 N. Barbara Street, Mount Joy, or Mrs. Christine Brown, 406 S. Delta Street, Mount Joy.

Tom tells the King his plan for making the King a better leader.

Columbia Little Theater offers "Your Own Star"

Be who you are, not as others say. These are the words you will hear sung if you come to see the Children's production of Your Own Star being presented March 21 and 22 by the Columbia Little Theater.

Obituaries

HARRY S. BILLET Harry S. Billet, formerly of 315 Locust St., Columbia, died at the Veterans Admin-the son of the late William H. and Dorothy Grove Blymier.

Mary Jane Demmy is the director of the musical composed by Steve Weibley and Jay Graver. Melissa

Russell will act as stage manager. Set designers are

Rosemary Robinson and Kit

Seibert. Construction . and technical directions are

In addition to his wife, he

MRS. HERMAN DRAGER

Mrs. Jane B. Drager of Columbia R1 died last week at St. Joseph Hospital after handled by Ron Haug, Jere Mackison and Duane Peters, while Deb Heckler is in charge of costumes. Barrie Gibby is in charge of dance, Sam Gottscholl oversees make-up, and Joe Lively handles props. The stage crew includes Tina Haug, Mike Bartch and Debbie Mable.

March 19, 1980

Playing the part of King Percival is Marie Herman. Carmella Mackison plays the king's aunt and the character Tom is portrayed by Steve Haug. Chorus members are Barbara Horn, Margie Kauffhold, Mary Loredo, Sharon Bachert, Becky Haug, Michael Lindenberger, Jason Dietz, Scott Demmy, Earl Lease and Curt O'Brien.

Your Own Star is about a King who never makes any decisions on his own, and so is not liked by his subjects. His friend Tom comes up with a plan to make him a good King. What did Tom plan for the King? Come see the show and find out!

Tickets can be purchased from any cast member or from Hinkle's Pharmacy, Columbia, or by calling 684-0175. Meet the cast at the Columbia High School, Friday, March 21, or Saturday, March 22.

CALL US FIRST, BEFORE YOU DIG

Any time you dig with a shovel or contracting equipment, you must check for underground utility lines or cables at least three working days before you begin. If you or a contractor hit any of these lines, results can be very costly to you and potentially dangerous to practically everyone.

Dig smart. Call Pennsylvania's One Call system and we'll mark the location of any underground cables or lines near your digging site.

IT'S THE LAW

Federal and state laws require excavators to check before digging so that they will not disrupt vital services or cause bodily harm.

istration Medical Center, Lebanon, after a lengthy illnes. He was 68.

Mr. Billet was born in Marietta, the son of Getrude Haines Kaufhold, Columbia, and the late Paris Billet.

A World War II Army veteran, he retired in 1954 after 25 years of service with the U.S. Air Force.

Surviving in addition to his mother are three children: Patricia, Idaho; Paul and Wayne, both of Minnesota; two sisters Edna, wife of Lloyd Brodbeck, Wrightsville, and Margie Morrison, Columbia, and one brother, Paul Kauffman, Columbia.

REV. ROBERT BLYMIER

The Rev. Robert C. Blymier, 41, formerly of Marietta, died at the Memorial Osteopathic Hosillness. He resided at 191 Silver Spur Drive, York.

He was the husband of Betty J. Hendrix Blymier and was employed as a child care worker at York County Detention Home. He belonged to the Church of the Open Door, Shiloh.

The Marietta native was the son of William H. and is survived by two sisters, Dorothy L., wife of Robert Sipling, Rheems, and Nancy J., wife of John Madara, Camp Hill, and a twin brother, William H. Blymier, Hanover.

ELIZABETH MUSSER COPPENHEFER

One of the oldest people in Pennsylvania—or, for that matter, in the world died last week at the age of 107.

Miss Elizabeth "Lizzie" Copenheffer, who attended the Mount Joy Mennonite Church, died at Lancaster General Hospital after a short illness. She would have celebrated here 108 birthday on March 28.

Miss Copenheffer, who had been deaf since the age of two, attributed her long life to "clean living and always being a religious person."

She had been a resident of Landis Homes retirement community since 1969. Before that, she had lived with relatives in Mount Joy for 20m years.

She is survived by one niece, two nephews, and great-nieces and greatnephews. a long illness. She was 60.

She was the wife of Herman M. Drager.

Mrs. Drager, who had worked as a sales clerk in the Town Shop, Columbia, worshiped in the Lutheran faith.

Born in Philipsburg, she was the daughter of the late John and Elsie Rogers Batcheler.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are; two sons; Stephen, Salunga, and Michael, Harper's Ferry, W. Va.; two daughters, Cynthia, wife of William Dukes, Hagerstown, Md., and Kimberly, Lancaster; a sister, Marjorie, wife of Edward Frye, Philipsburg; and three grandchildren.

Council (cont.)

[continued from front page]

from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Youth Athletic Association was also given permission to place a plaque in memory of John Gohn in Memorial Park.