Chicques Adult Athletic Association was granted permission to use the outdoor volleyball and basketball courts at Memorial Park, with that organization installing rings at its own expense on the small court.

An admendment to the housing ordinance was adopted as presented. It requires a member of the housing hearing board to withdraw himself if a personal or financial interest in the property to be considered exists.

A resolution was submitted by the Marietta Area Business Association: resolved "that because of the detriment created by loitering on Market St., Marietta Area Business Association would be in full support of expanding the police force to 24 hour protection and are willing to support this action in anyway possible." A committee to study the police problems will meet with Mayor Flanagan and the council safety committee to co-ordinate efforts.

A letter of resignation was read from Richard Kauffman, permanent part-time patrolman, who plans to leave the force April 22. His reason for leaving was more money needed. He was, however, available for part-time work, the letter stated. Council accepted the resignation, but for lack of a motion, he was not retained.

There were 141 police incidents this month and 5 fires. Property saved was valued at $100,000.

U.S. Aluminum requested permission to operate its shredder 24 hours instead of the 8 hours it is now limited to do. This request was referred to the zoning hearing board for which a public hearing will be scheduled. Council suggested it would inspect a sound proof housing structure before the machine was placed in service.

A similar request to close Hazel Ave. from Bridge to Jones St. was referred to the Street Committee.

Four youth and one supervisor will be hired under the Lancaster Training Agency for summer youth employment.

A structure at 606 E. Market St. was declared a hazzard and has been secured against vandals.

Tennis team loses players, loses meets

The Donegal tennis team has lost two more players and is now down to six members. In spite of this, Coach Bill Loercher is looking for a .500 season. "We are in a building stage," he says. The team, made up of one senior and five underclassmen, is relatively inexperienced.

"If we can get some boys out there playing tennis over the summer, we will have a stronger team next year." Loercher believes that players must practice their game over the summer to have a winning season.

Senior John Crider, who did work at his game over the summer, has won two of his first three matches.

Loercher feels that his team has a good chance of defeating Lancaster Country Day at home Thursday and Lampeter-Strasburg, away on Friday.

Thanks United Telephone. . .for the Prompt Service

Donald Hayward, President

For almost 25 years the Embers Restaurant and Ann Richards Gift Shop in The Quality Inn at Carlisle, has been a customer of The United Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

A letter from president Don Hayward quotes, "We are operating approximately 240 telephones and also a paging system supplied by UTS. I wish to congratulate your company on the extremely fine prompt service we have received over the years. At no time has any of our equipment been out of service for any 24 hour period."

Mr. Hayward continues to compliment United Telephone on our emergency service. About two years ago an addition was being added to the Embers complex. Unfortunately a contractor preparing footings for an Embers addition cut the telephone cables and the motel could not receive or place calls.

Mr. Hayward contacted United Telephone. According to Robert Bowen, United's Carlisle area Service Manager, "we restored service to the Embers in two hours."

SATISFIED CUSTOMER

According to Mr. Hayward, "As a satisfied customer, I am looking forward to this fine relationship in the future."

We at United Telephone wish to salute and thank Mr. Hayward for his fine comments. United's hallmark of service to residences and businesses alike will continue.

You know you can always call on us.

At United we meet our customers' total communications needs with sales and service.
