

Related Arts Day in Elementary Schools

The Donegal School District Elementary Schools each took part in a Related Arts Day last week.

Each school spent one day (Tuesday through Friday) taking part in events related to arts and skills. The students visited four different "classes" in the morning and enjoyed an all school activity in the afternoon.

The day's presentations and activities were planned by Mrs. Cheryl Wise, director of Elementary Art for the school district.

Those contributing their knowledge and skills to the event were: Thomas Wise, painting and lithography; Nelda Bair, opera; Whitey

Hayman, shadow boxing; Ben Zettlemoyer, tin smith; Sharon Zimmerman, folk singing; Joe Zimmerman and his dog Hilda, dog showmanship; Vicki Jean Hutto, dance; Ann Spangler, weaving; Lynn Morrow, candle making; Lilkette Eckemove, sculpture; Linda Fagan, yoga; Nancy Landis, sign language; David Stabley, pottery; and Kenneth Hartman, stone cutting and polishing.

The afternoon programs included a movie on ballooning, and presentations by the Millersville Folk Dancers, the Donegal Drama Club and the Manheim Elementary String Ensemble.

The following photographs were taken at the Maytown Elementary School during Related Arts Day last week.

Joe Zimmerman and his show dog Hilda

Ben Zettlemoyer, tin smith

Students do yoga movements under the direction of Linda Fagan

Ann Spangler demonstrates weaving

Indian Charles Dorwart explains his culture to a group of students

Nelda Bair as the witch in an operatic adaption of Hansel and Gretel