Diane has been communicating with her exchange partner who forwarded a handbook from the Cherry Tree Hill School. There are many terms listed which the American will be accustomed to after a year in England. Sneakers, for example, are known as plim soles, sweaters are called jumpers, and volleyball is referred to as net ball. According to the instructions of the handbook, old jeans and jewelry are not allowed at the school.

The school year in England consists of three terms beginning in September and terminating in mid-July. There are two-week vacations between each semester.

Diane will be teaching a swimming class while in England, walking with her pupils to the "bath" in Darby. Her curriculum will also include art, music and handwriting, for which a "cartridge pen" is recommended. "I'm going to have to get acquainted with the English version of spelling," she laughs, "as well as the various dialects."

Diane will travel to Washington D.C. August 12 for a four-day orientation. While there she will meet the 100 other persons involved in this year's exchange.

The vivacious elementary teacher, who toured England in 1977, is looking forward to the travel opportunities while overseas. "I plan to travel whenever I can," she says. "Our sponsors have planned many events of interest for us while we're abroad, such as garden parties where we can meet officials, and ski trips for a holiday."

Here in Mount Joy, Diane is a troop committee member for Girl Scout Troop #1040 and a volunteer guide and associate member of the North Museum, Lancaster. She is on the negotiating committee of the Donegal Education Association and a member of the Pennsylvania and National Education Associations. She is also finance chairperson of the Mount Joy Business and Professional Women's Club of which she has been a member for three years.

17 and under boys: Mike Jones—free, breast and relay; Rod Fellenbaum—back, fly and relay; and Pat Moran and Dan Funk—relay.

The 14 and under girls' relay team once again broke the team record with a 2:13.5. Members are Emmy Zuch, Dee Arndt, Hope Madara and Amy Hess. Amy Hess set a pool record of 29.7 for the freestyle.

The team will have met Lititz Springs July 22 at Lititz. The next and final even will be Mount Joy Lions Team hosting the third Division Divisional Invitation Meet July 26 at the Mount Joy Lions Pool. The meet starts at 9:00 am.

Sincere Thanks to All PP&L Customers

PP&L wants to express its sincere thanks to all of our customers for their patience and understanding in the aftermath of the severe storm that hit on Wednesday, July 16.

PP&L work crews along with those from Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. and the Long Island Lighting Co. worked 'round the clock to return service as quickly as possible.

We are very sorry if you were inconvenienced in any manner because of the storm.
