Helen Wivell of Marietta, the Information Director for the Lancaster County Farmer's Association, will be assisting in a tour of Lancaster County farms for the Pennsylvania House Agricultural Committee on July 23. The tour of local farms will center on the theme of "Alternate Energy Sources for Farms and Small Businesses."

After inspecting the facilities of Floyd Horst, a farmer distilling alcohol from farm products, the representatives will be hosted for lunch by Mr. and Mrs. Mel Wenger at the Wenger farm. Wenger is vice chairman of the agricultural committee.

The group will also visit the farm of Miles Fry & Son, who are producing hybrid poplars for wood alcohol. The E-Z Manufacturing Company, which specializes in forage wagons, is also on the itinerary; the E-Z Company uses sawdust for conserving energy. The group will also visit Sperry-New Holland to observe a film on energy-saving farm equipment and see the museum.

The day will conclude with a dinner at Willow Valley Farm and Restaurant.
