Painting & Sketching at Columbia Center

The Columbia Playground is forming sketch and painting groups that will meet every Monday and Wednesday starting July 21, the first day of class at the Community Center located at 248 Locust Street, Columbia.

Sketch group meets in the morning between 10 and 11:30 devoting time to drawing with pencil, charcoal, pastels, and pen and ink.

The afternoon group meets at 12:30 and members will paint the landscapes about Columbia until 2:00. The work will be done in acrylics or water color.

Each participant may choose his or her own medium and is responsible for supplying his own materials. A drawing pad and pencils are recommended for the first days.

Suzanne Satterfield, a Marietta artist, will lead the group and will consult with group members when instruction and help is needed.

The groups are designed for the beginner and the experienced artist. Each person will be encouraged to seek a personal form of expression through his favorite medium. A small fee is required.

Marietta JCs say 'thank you'

The Marietta Jaycees would like to express their appreciation to all the Marietta Businesses that donated towards the Stay at Home 4th of July.

We would also like to thank the Marietta community and surrounding areas for their attendance to make our carnival and fireworks display such a success.

Thanks also to all persons involved by donating their time and effort in our 4th of July project.

And a big thanks to the Marietta Borough, Marietta Police Force, Marietta Fire-police for their cooperation, and the local newspapers for their space donated toward publicity of the Stay at Home 4th.

Sincerely,
Project Chairman
Rick Sload
