Columbia 'Hello, Dolly!' is a rollicking success

The Columbia Little Theater launched its new home in the State Theater on Locust Street in Columbia last week with a ribbon cutting ceremony followed by a rousing performance of "Hello, Dolly!"

The musical, about a turn-of-the-century matchmaker who sets out to make a match for herself, is lively, comic, and full of memorable tunes.

The Columbia Little Theater version of "Dolly" is a happy one. The cast is bright and lively. Janet Walker and Chet Zercher, in the lead roles of Dolly Levi and Horace Vandergelder, provide professional histrionics and singing with a sure comic touch.

Mount Joy's Sandy Heisey plays the romantic part of Mrs. Molloy with stunning vocal ability. Sam Taylor, in his New Era review of the show, says Sandy "looks like a young Ethel Merman and her voice in the lower registers also has a strong resemblance to the familiar Merman 'belt.'"

Mary Jane Demmy of Marietta, who is stage manager of "Dolly," has been a strong guiding force in the Columbia Little Theater since its inception. The opening of its new home in Columbia with this production of "Dolly" is a tribute to her dedication to grass-roots theater.

And "Dolly" is grass-roots theater at its finest. The acting is excellent, the singing is superb, the dancing is dynamic, the music supplied by a pit orchestra is appropriately brassy. The theater's acoustics are good, the seats are roomy and comfortable, the view of the stage is clear. The seats are reasonably priced, and Columbia is only minutes away.

But the best part of "Dolly" is that the audience loves every minute of it. Don't miss it! "Dolly" runs through October 4 nightly at 8 pm. Call 684-2273 for information.

Donegal shut out by ELCO, 16-0

Donegal traveled to ELCO last Saturday where the first place Raiders handed them a 16-0 shut out. Considering the strength of the ELCO team, Donegal put up a real fight.

The Raiders have 21 starts back from a 10-1 season last year. The have depth and experience.

According to Donegal head coach Gayne Deshler, the game was closer than the 16-0 score indicates.

"Their first touchdown and the field goal were both made with several long yardage plays on the third down. They broke away and got into scoring position," related Deshler.

"The real turning point of the game was the third period," he continues. With the score at 6-0, Donegal quarterback Darrel Risberg underthrew an end for what would have been a touch [continued on back page]
