

School board member Jefferson Hartzler speaks to Business & Professional Women

Dr. Jefferson Hartzler, a member of the Donegal School Board and a mathematics professor at Penn State's Capital Campus, was guest speaker for the September dinner meeting of the Mount Joy Business and Professional Women's Club. The meeting was held at Hostetter's Dining Hall.

Dr. Hartzler's topic was "A Strategy for Improvement of Public Education in the '80's." He told the group that elementary education is in better shape today than secondary education. "High school age pupils have a tendency to waste time," Dr. Hartzler said.

"Is it the fault of the parents?" he asked the group. He answered his question by stating the responsibility lies with the parent. "If we demand high quality education, we will get it."

The program was arranged by the Foundation committee, with Mrs. Carol Lambert as chairperson. The project for the month was a white elephant sale. Maxine Maxwell presented several vocal selections, accompanied by Kay Wolgemuth.

Mrs. John Fry, president of the Mount Joy B.P.W., conducted the business session.

The club voted to sponsor Girl Scout Troop #55 and to participate in a table setting contest sponsored by the David's Furniture Store, Elizabethtown, October 19 thru November 1.

Donna Hay, girl of the month for Donegal High School, was introduced to the club. She and her mother, Mrs. Paul Hay, were guests of the club.

Mrs. Robert Bookwalter was elected delegate to the Fall District meeting to be held at York Valley Inn on October 18 and 19. Serving as alternates are Mary Jane Hoffer and Mrs. James R. Baker. The president, Mrs. Fry, is automatically a delegate.

Mrs. Joe Mumma was appointed first vice president due to the resignation of Mrs. Ada Thompson.

Mrs. Herbert Sarver, chairperson of the senior citizen project, reported 60 afghans have been completed. 22 additional afghans have been promised, and yarn is still available for more volunteer knitters.

A questionnaire was completed for District #7, and the local club voted to continue to the annual theatre presentation at the Fulton.

Mary Jane Hoffer introduced two new members to the group: Mrs. Tom Knorr and Monica Smith.

Public relations chairperson, Alice Marie Nissley, announced that the kick-off breakfast for national BPW week will be held Sunday, October 19, at 9 am at the Colonial Inn, Marietta. Following breakfast, the club will attend the First United Methodist Church, East Market Street, Marietta.

Toddler topics pamphlet available for parents

Are you the parent of an active pre-schooler? If so, you may be interested in a free learning packet with timely and helpful information on rearing young children.

The packet, called "Toddler Topics," has been developed by Extension home economists in the Capital and Southeast regions. This year's topics covered in the learning packet include: activities to do with your child—rain or sun, fireplace safety, to work or not to work, selecting child care, respiratory illness, flexible furniture for children, pre-reading skills and many others.

"Toddler Topics" will be distributed in early 1981 in a series of four packets. The mailing list for this learning packet is being made now. To get your free copies of "Toddler Topics" call or write: Michelle Rodgers, Lancaster County Penn State Extension Service, 1383 Arcadia Road, Room 1, Lancaster, PA 17601 (Phone 717/394-6851).

Have money problems

we may have answer

How are you spending your income? Do you know where the money goes each month? Does it just fitter away, never to return?

Do you know your family's net worth? You may be worth more than you think. Estimating your net worth should be a yearly procedure. It is a necessary tool, especially in these times of inflation, for your future financial planning. How to estimate your net worth is just part of a multi-faceted program on Financial Estate Planning that is being offered by the Lancaster County Cooperative Extension Service. This workshop has been designed for non-farm families and is open to any interested persons free of charge.

It will be held on Wednesday evenings, October 8 and 15, at 7:00 pm in the auditorium of the Farm and Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster. Please call the Extension Office (394-6851) if you plan to attend.
