Brownie Troop #1123 from Mount Joy

Investiture service for Brownie troop

An Investiture Service for four new girl scouts was held at the Mount Joy Presbyterian Church Monday evening. Mount Joy Brownie Troop #1123 invested Kristal Garber, Jennie Hawn, Michele Roberts and Robin Schatz.

Mrs. Gladys Applegate, troop leader, explained the "Five Worlds of Girl Scouting" and presented each new member with a pin.

Taking part in the ceremony were these additional members of the troop: Heide Applegate, Marcie Cooper, LeAnn Eby, Kim Flowers, Teresa Geib, Leslie Germer, Crystal Getz, Sherry Herr, Jennie Klugh, Crissie Sweigart, Joy Weidman, Janie Wilson, Stacy Wilson and Erin Bradley. Yvonne Applegate acts as assistant leader.

All of the girls received a plant from their leaders with the good wishes to grow in scouting just as the plant grows.

Needlework pins were presented to the scouts who assisted with the nine scrapbooks presented to nine church nurseries in Mount Joy. The girls composed the books.

Sultzbach-Rinehart House given plaque

The Sultzbach-Rinehart House, Waterford Avenue, Marietta, has been recognized with a plaque from the Historic Preservation Trust of Lancaster.

The Sultzbach-Rinehart House was the original project of the Marietta Restoration Associates. The structure was built in 1810 of log and clapboard with a fireplace in each of its eight rooms. The building was divided into apartments when the Associates acquired it in 1967.

Major restorations included fitting the windows with small panes, removing the front porch and installing a pent eave. A new roof and retaining wall were added, and the completed plot was landscaped. An adjoining property was purchased, adding extra ground to the home. Tin chandeliers were added to the front entrance rooms, making pleasant period chambers.

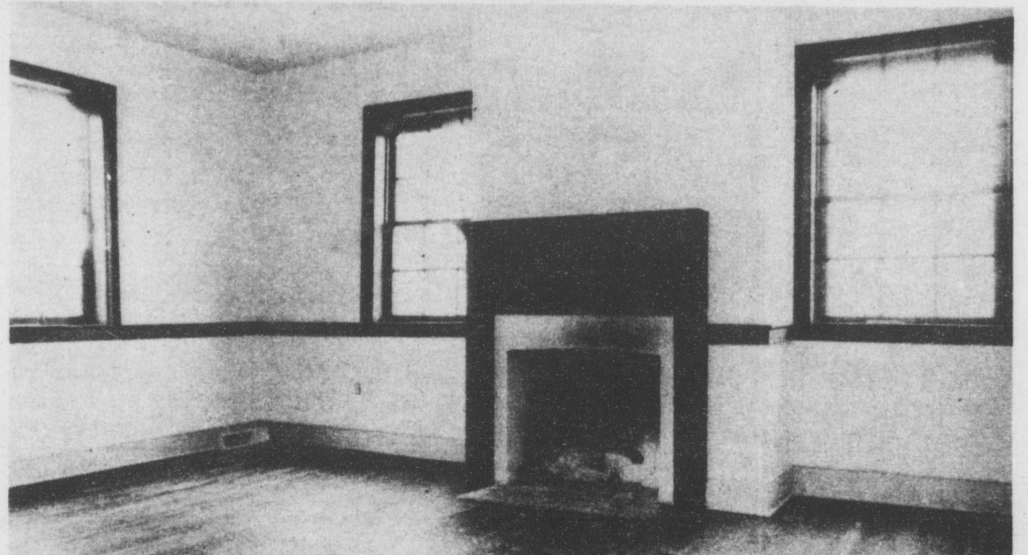

Today the property is a private dwelling.

The Restoration Associates' current project is the Union Meeting House.

Preparing the data for the requirements for registration were Mrs. Margaret Landis, current Associates' president, and James Landis.
