An art vase worth $600

By Dan D'Imperio

Q. We just inherited a vase having the figure of a woman in the center marked G. Argy-Rousseau. What can you tell us about this piece?—Katherine, Corning, N.Y.

A. When the conversation switches to famous Art Deco glass artists, the name Gabriel Argy-Rousseau is almost certain to be mentioned. Numerous objects in the colorful pate-de-cristal technique have been ascribed to this famous Frenchman. Collectors endeavor to track down vases, cigarette boxes, lamps, perfume bottles and various other view-worthy objects attributed to this gentleman. He showed affinity for such motifs as poppies, gazelles, flowers, wolves and those fantastic Art Deco stylized female heads! Value guide: vase, female figure, marked "G. Argy-Rousseau, 8-inch tall, circa 1925, $600.

Q. Can you provide us with a price list on early Jim Beam bottles in the Executive Series?—Frank, Harrisburg, Pa.

A. The Executive Series first issued by the Beam Distillery of Kentucky in 1955 always stimulates some spirited bidding among bottle buffs! Value guide: Black Porcelain, 1955, $425; Royal Gold, 1956, $150; Royal DiMonte, 1957, $85; Cherub, gray, 1958, $400; Tavern Scene, 1959, $75; Cherub, blue, 1960, $140.

the fabric, so lift it out of the wash tub very carefully.

The easiest way to dry your down garment is in a dryer. Use a medium heat setting. Add two or three clean bath towels to absorb moisture and a clean pair of tennis shoes to break up the clumps of down as the dryer drum rotates. It will probably take several cycles to dry the garment completely.

Be sure there is no moisture left because down can mildew if it stays damp too long.

You can also dry a down garment outdoors on a warm, dry day. Drape it over several drying lines to evenly distribute the weight. Check from time to time and fluff the matted clumps with your fingers. Total drying may take several days.

ROUSSEAU ART DECO VASE

Q. Would it be possible to enlighten us about a vase bearing an Indian motif marked "La Moro"?—Mr. & Mrs. H. G., Oceanside, Calif.

A. Around the turn of the century, Zanesville, Ohio, was a thriving center for the production of pottery specialties. One active firm in this area was aptly named the Zanesville Art Pottery. The firm started operating about 1900. Originally utilitarian articles were marketed, but eventually art pottery pieces were introduced. The foremost line was La Moro, a ware which was handpainted and decorated under the glaze. Pieces bearing the impressed block print "La Moro" are coveted by ceramic aficionados. Value guide: vase, Indian decor, 9-inch tall, $275.

Q. Is it true that the book "The Decisive Moment" is quite valuable?—Tom, Hot Springs, Ark.

A. Simon and Shuster in collaboration with Editions Verve of Paris published this large format book in July of 1952. It measured 15 by 12½ inches. The handsome volume contained magnificent photographs by Henri Cartier Brisson. Henri Matisse was responsible for the eye-catching cover design. A separate book contained the captions for this work. When published the book sold for $12.50, but "The Decisive Moment" is apparently growing more valuable with every passing hour as a mint condition copy just fetched $165 at auction!

Appraise your American country antiques with Dan D'Imperio's new book and value guide "The Country Antiques Companion," $9.95 including shipping. An autographed copy may be ordered from the Crown Syndicate, Inc., No. 5 Crown Road, Weatherford, TX 76086. Please include a check or money order.
