Eleven students qualify for special SAT tests

The W.I. Beahm Junior High School of the Donegal District has announced that there are eleven students in the seventh grade eligible for taking the Scholastic Aptitude Tests (SATs) in January, 1981, as part of John Hopkins University Talent Search, open only to seventh graders.

There are five boys and six girls who qualify as a result of having scored at the 97 percentile or above in Math, or Language Arts, or Composite scores on standardized tests taken within the past two school years (grades five and six).

Information and registration forms have been sent to the parents of these students, and it is a matter of choice as to whether or not their youngster will take part in this challenging event. All costs are met by the parents. The Office of Talent Identification and

Mount Joy library lists holiday hours

The Mount Joy Library Center has announced a change of schedule during the upcoming holiday season.

During the week of Christmas, the Library Center will be closed December 24, 25 and 26.

Also, the Library Center will close for the New Year holiday December 31, January 1 and 2.

The normal schedule of operation, Monday through Friday from 3 to 9 pm, will resume on Monday, January 5, 1981.

Development (OTID) sponsors this activity. Mr. William C. George is the director of OTID.

One of the main purposes of this program is to afford an opportunity to compare the students' particular reasoning abilities to those of the ablest seventh grades in the Talent Search Region which encompasses Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia.
