WRIGHT'S

INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS IN THE CITY OF MEXICO—GREAT SUCCESS AMONG THE VOLUNTEERS—LETTER FROM A HIGH SHERIFF OF SOUTH CAROLINA!

Extract of letter from the editor of the Greenville Mountaineer, S. C.

DR. W. WRIGHT—Dear Sir— * * * A week or two ago I sent you a MOUNTAINEER, containing a letter from one of our Volunteers in the City of Mexico, in which he pays WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, under the circumstances, the highest meed of praise I have ever known a medicine to receive. The Volunteer, William W. Goodlett, Esq., is a gentleman of fine standing—an accomplished and well educated man, and was recently

HIGH SHERIFF

Of this District. By one of your advertisements in a Charleston paper, I happened to notice the location of your office and thought you might extract an article of some value in regard to your medicine, therefore I sent the paper

The following is an extract from the letter referred to above:

"My health is very fast improving. I procured a few days ago, some of Dr. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, and they have acted on my system

LIKE MAGIC!"

Thus it appears that the brave and patriotic Volunteers who have gone to Mexico, to defend the rights and honor of their country, already begin to realize the extraordinary value of this incomparable medicine. Long life to them!

HORRIBLE MISTAKE!!!

Are sometimes made by confounding one medicine with another, and administering the wrong article. Equally horrible are those mistakes which are made in supposing that all Pills are alike, and that therefore, it is indifferent which are taken, and it one kind is bad all are bad together. This is a very great mistake. There is as much difference between Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills and other articles as between midnight and noonday! We do not wish any to take our word merely for this statement. Let any one having taken other medicines try this. Nothing more will be necessary.

Many persons have been led away by a COATING OF SUGAR, as it they anticipated that it would remove the nausea of the Medicine. But they are generally mistaken. Without the Sugar coated articles have nothing to recommend it to use, and would not be sold a single day. But with the sugar, and by giving the article a name SIMILAR to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, they gain a temporary notoriety. Wolves they are, in sheep's clothing, of whom the public should steer sufficiently clear.

Let it be remembered that WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are prepared with special reference to the laws governing the human body. Consequently, they are always good, always found, always relieve in removing our disease. Every family should keep them at hand.

FOR THE MIND AND THE HEART. The YOUTH'S CABINET, edited by FRANCIS C. WOODWORTH, is a Repository, as its name imports, presenting the richest literary attractions for the young. The contents are mostly original, and unwearied pains are bestowed upon the editorial department. It aspires to be, both in the character of its articles and in its mechanical execution, a model of taste and excellence; and it is universally conceded that it stands at the head of all works of its class. The third volume commences in January, 1848; and the increasing popularity of the magazine warrants the publisher in promising that this volume shall be MORE VALUABLE IN EVERY RESPECT than either of the preceding ones. Several new contributors are engaged, among whom are T. S. Arthur and Prof Alden, whose stories for the young are excelled by no writer in the country.

YEARLY SUBSCRIPTION, 81 ONLY. Great inducements are offered to those who take the work in clubs, and now is the time to form CLUBS for the new volume. The initial or January number is now ready. It contains A SPLENDID PORTRAIT ON STEEL, and a great variety of engravings on wood, prepared expressly for the Cabinet. These engravings alone cost more than $200

The yearly volume, for 1848, besides containing nearly 400 large octavo pages of the choicest reading, with appropriate music, will be richer in embellishments than any of its contemporaries, whether they appear in an original American costume, or in one borrowed from the other side of the Atlantic.

The voice of the public press, so universally and so warmly expressed, is certainly indicative that this magazine has won its way to a high place in popular favor. The publisher selects two or three of these notices, as a specimen of more than a hundred.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"This magazine is a model which we could wish were followed by all works of its class. It is serious without dullness or melancholy; cheerful, but not frivolous; religious, but neither sectarian nor dogmatical; while it unites very happily the winning grace of amusement with the dignity of self-respect." [N. Y. Daily Tribune.

"It abounds in precious gems, and seldom appears without a good supply of solid and valuable ores." [New Orleans Observer.

"We do not know of a more elegant and beneficial work for the young." [Noah's Weekly Mess.

"It is beautifully illustrated, and evinces great ability and interest. The editor has a fine tact for such a work." [N. Y. Evening.

"If any of our juvenile friends wish for a magazine which is entertaining, and richly worth its cost, here it is. We do not know a better work for their purpose." [Mother's Journal, N. Y.

"The editor is one of our best writers for the young." [N. Y. Com. Adv.

"The articles are original, and the tone fresh and lively." [N. Y. Christ. Enquirer

"We can but express again our high opinion of this monthly." [N. Y. Christ. Adv. & Jour

"It is universally admitted that the Cabinet is one of the most entertaining, instructive and salutary periodicals for children." [N. Y. Christ Intel.

"Its editor goes to work the right way to make children happy by imparting useful knowledge, and interesting them in whatever is good and beautiful." [Charter Oak, Hartford, Conn.

BOUND VOLUMES OF THE CABINET.

In preparing the monthly numbers great pains are taken to make a tasteful and excellent volume for the library. In this point of view the Youth's Cabinet has, as yet, no imitators, and it is believed in no other compass can be found, in so convenient and elegant a form, and for the same expense, such an amount of entertaining knowledge, as in the yearly volumes of this work. They are provided with a yearly index, and are particularly adapted to school libraries. Those interested in common schools, are invited to examine them with this view.

THE SECOND VOLUME FOR 1847,

is now ready and may be had separately, or in connection with the first. It is complete in itself, and cannot fail to be among the most popular things in the way of A JUVENILE KEEPSAKE.

The publisher assures his patrons that there shall be no delay in filling their orders, as there was unavoidably, last season. A much larger edition is bound.

PRICES, SEPARATELY OR TOGETHER.

In muslin,	$1 25—the two volumes,	$2 25
In gilt edges,	1 50—the two volumes,	2 75
Mixed edition.	1 00—4 volumes,	3 00

Both volumes in muslin, and one year's subscription, $3 00

POSTAGE FREE—The mail edition can be sent to any part of the United States, for only 16 cents postage. Those who remit $2 for two copies, shall receive the same postage free.

AGENTS WANTED—Several gentlemen of ability and good address are wanted, to obtain subscribers for the magazine, and to sell the bound volumes. Applications should be accompanied with responsible testimonials as to character, and all letters post paid. The best inducements will be offered to good agents. A small capital of some $25 is necessary to be invested in bound volumes, which find a ready sale. This is the best season for the agency.

☞ Postmasters are authorized to act as agents, and may avail themselves of the premiums offered above, or reserve 25 per cent of the moneys collected of new subscribers. Specimens sent gratis. Address

SPLENDID

PREMIUM PLATES for the subscribers to the Columbian Magazine. Sent by mail to any part of United States, free of postage.

The Columbian Magazine, for 1848, edited by John Inman and Robert A. West. A repository of the choicest American literature entirely original, and of the most costly original embellishments.

The Columbian Magazine enters upon a new year with prospects unprecedentedly bright and promising. It has attained a proud position as a public institution. The press has spoken warmly and with a generous kindness which the Proprietor gratefully acknowledges, has borne testimony to the superiority of its literature and the profusion and elegance of its embellishments, while its numerous and constantly increasing circulation, shows that the press has but echoed the general sentiment, and afforded such agreeable evidence that it has met the expectation of its friends as to the Publisher almost unnecessary to speak of the future.

It cannot be necessary to say much of the conduct of the literary department of the Columbian. The gentlemen who have so long and satisfactorily discharged that duty continue their editorial services, and the Publishers is happy to announce that he has made arrangements with several of the most distinguished authors in the country, whose contributions will enrich the Magazine, while, as heretofore, the merit of an article, quite as much as the fame of its writer, will be the passport to its pages. Elevated sentiment and pure morality will distinguish all the literature of the Columbian Magazine.

The paper on which the Columbian will hereafter be printed, is manufactured expressly for the purpose, by one of the largest and most highly esteemed makers in the Union, and the typography will be of proportionate neatness and elegance.

The Publisher respectfully solicits from authors, artists, subscribers and agents a continuance of the confidence hitherto so generously awarded the Magazine. As an earnest of the liberality with which he intends to conduct that department of the work he has prepared at a large outlay, a magnificent full length Portrait of Washington, price one dollar, as a supplement to Columbian for January which will be presented gratis, not as premium to every yearly subscriber to the Columbian Magazine, who will send to the Publisher $3 in advance, postage paid. It is an engraving of such superior merit and the subject is of such profound and abiding interest that he cannot doubt that the gift will highly gratify to receive and list may swell the list of his subscribers. He annexes also, the following unusually liberal terms of publication, it being understood that the subscriptions are in cash:

For $3, the Magazine and Engraving of Washington.

For $5 two copies of the Magazine and the Engraving with each.

☞ The great National Picture of the Declaration of Independence just published. This picture, which was painted by Col Trumbull for the Rotunda at Washington, and originally engraved on copper by Mr Durand, has been re-engraved on steel, and is the result of two years' labor. It contains portraits of all the signers, and should be the Republican Emblem in the home of every American citizen. The size of the engraving is 21 by 31 inches. It is printed on the best plate paper, 28 by 36 inches. Price, $1

Every person who will send to the Publisher of the Columbian $4, post paid, shall receive a copy of this Engraving and a copy of the Magazine for one year,—the engraving free of postage. For $5, the Magazine, Engraving of Washington, and Declaration of Independence

THIS ATTENTIVELY! Doctor Hofland's Celebrated

GERMAN BITTERS,

Will effectually cure the Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Flatulence, Asthma, Diabetes, Disease of the Kidneys, Pulmonary Affections, (arising from disease of the stomach and liver,) and all diseases arising from a weak or disordered stomach in both Male and Female, such as Female Weakness, Dizziness, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Inward Piles, Fluttering of the Heart, Difficulty of Breathing, Constant Imaginings of Evil, Great Depression of Spirits, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Side, Back, Breast, or Limbs, Cold Feet, &c.

They remove all acidity, and give tone and action to the stomach, and assist digestion; they contain no alcoholic stimulant, and can be taken by the most delicate stomach and will in every case entirely destroy Costiveness, and renovate the whole system, removing all impurities from the body, and remnants of previous disease, and give health and vigor to the whole frame, thereby preventing frightful dreams, walking while asleep, &c., which often result in accident.

The functions of the stomach are of the utmost importance to every one, constituting the source and fountain of life, which is nutrition. No organ possesses such remarkable sympathies, none such remarkable power in modifying every part of the system. A greater number of persons fall victims to the harrassing of Constipation and Dyspepsia, and more organic diseases commencing in the digestive system, than all other diseases combined. The many thousands who die with Yellow Fever, Cholera, Influenza, and other epidemics, is owing to disease or derangement there. If the digestive system is in perfect health, the nervous system and the circulation of the blood will be also, as upon it they depend, then epidemics loose all their terror.

Those living in or visiting districts harrassed with FEVER AND AGUE annually, will find that by the timely use of one or two bottles to renovate and strengthen the system, no excess of bile will accumulate, and they will not in any one instance take the disease. Prevention is far better than cure.

The rare success in treating diseases of the stomach successfully, has not been so much a want of pathological knowledge of its functions, as the preparation of suitable Vegetable compounds, so as to obtain not only their whole power, but as they would be most effectual and grateful.

We are all aware that too many preparations have been, and are now before the public, that act only as palliatives, and some that change the locality of the disease, or prevent it for a short period, then it returns more formidable than in the first instance. Such preparations have destroyed the public confidence. This article standing alone in its number of cures, and unrivalled, as thousands of our citizens can attest who have tested its virtues, can always be depended upon for the above named diseases. It will cure any case that can be cured by medicine, no matter who, or what else has failed: it will perfectly restore the diseased organic functions of the Stomach, Intestines, Respiration, Circulation, &c.

These Bitters, and the Spikenard Ointment will cure any case of Inward Piles; it is a rare occurrence to require more than one bottle of each for the worst cases.

For sale at the GERMAN MEDICINE OFFICE, No. 27½, Race Street, one door above Eighth, south side, Philadelphia. In Lancaster, by John F. Long; in Harrisburg, by Daniel W. Gross; in Pittsburg, by Wm. Thorn—and by dealers generally throughout the United States.

☞ Pamphlets containing cures and descriptions of diseases, gratis.

Also for sale, his celebrated VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC PILLS, for the cure of Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, and severe Nervous Affections; SPIKENARD OINTMENT, for the cure of Piles, Tetter, Ringworms, &c. &c. &c. march1-1848-3m

LITTELL'S LIVNIG AGE.

PUBLISHED every Saturday.—Terms 12 1-2cents a number, or six dollars a year, in advance.—This work is conducted in the spirit of Littell's Museum of Foreign Literature, (which was favorably received by the public for the last twenty years,) but as it is twice as large, and appears so often, we not only give spirit and freshness to it by many things which were excluded by a month's delay, but while thus extending our Scientific and Literary department, and more attractive variety, are able to increase the solid and substantial part of our literary, historical, and political harvest, as fully to satisfy the wants of the American reader.

The elaborate and stately Essays of the Edinburg Quarterly, and other Reviews; and Blackwood's noble criticisms on Poetry, his keen political Commentaries, highly wrought Tales, and vivid description of rural and mountain Scenery; and the contributions to Literature, Science, and Common Life, by the sagacious Spectator, the sparkling Examiner, the judicious Athenæum, the busy and industrious Literary Gazette, the sensible and comprehensive Britannia, the sober and respectable Christian Observer; these are intermixed with the Military and Naval reminiscences of the United Service, and with the best articles of the Dublin University, New Monthly, Fraser's Tait's, Ainsworth's, Heads, and of Chambers' admirable Journal. We do not consider it beneath our dignity to borrow wit and wisdom from Punch, and, when we think it good enough, make use of the thunder of the Times. We shall increase our variety by importations from the continent of Europe, and from the new growth of the British colonies.

The steamship has brought Europe, Asia, and Africa into our neighborhood, and will greatly multiply our connections as Merchants, Travellers, and Politicians, with all parts of the world; so that much more than ever it now becomes every intelligent American to be informed of the events and changes of foreign countries, and this not only because of their nearer connection with ourselves, but because the nation seems to be hastening through a rapid process of change, to some new state of things, which the merely political prophet cannot compute or foresee.

Geographical discoveries, the progress of Colonization, (which is extending over the whole world,) and Voyages and Travels, will be favorite matter for our selections; and, in general, we shall endeavor constantly to fully acquaint our readers with the great department of Foreign affairs, without entirely neglecting our own.

While we aspire to make the Living Age desirable to all who wish to keep themselves informed of the rapid progress of the movement—to Statesmen, Divines, Lawyers, and Physicians—to men of business and men of leisure—it is still a stronger object to make it attractive and useful to their Wives and Children. We believe that we can thus do some good in our day and generation, and hope to make the work indispensable in every well informed family. We say indispensable, because in this day of cheap literature it is not possible to guard against the influx of what is bad in taste and vicious in morals, in any other way than by furnishing a sufficient supply of a healthy character. The mental and moral appetite must be gratified.

We hope that, by "winnowing the wheat from the chaff," by providing abundantly for the imagination, and by a large collection of Biography, Voyages and Travels, History and more solid matter, we may produce a work which shall be popular while at the same time it will aspire to raise the standard of public taste.

TERMS.—The Living Age is published every Saturday, by E. LITTELL & Co., corner of Tremont and Bromfield sts., Boston—Price 12½ cents a number, or six dollars a year in advance. Remittances for any period will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. ☞ To insure regularity in mailing the work, orders should be addressed to the office of publication, as above.

Clubs, paying a year in advance, will be supplied as follows:—

Four copies for	$20 00
Nine "	$40 00
Twelve "	$50 00

Complete sets, in fifteen volumes, to the end of 1847, handsomly bound, and packed in neat boxes, are for sale at thirty dollars.

Any volume may be had separately at two dollars bound or a dollar and a half in numbers.

Any number may be had for 12½ cents; and it may be worth while for subscribers and purchasers to complete any broken volumes they may have, and thus greatly enhance their value.

A NEW VOLUME.

THE HOME JOURNAL FOR 1848. Edited by MORRIS & WILLIS. The immense editions of the January numbers of this universally popular Literary Newspaper are disappearing rapidly. New Subscribers who wish to preserve all the chapters of the new and beautiful

AMERICAN NOVEL,

(now in the course of publication) and files of the work for 1847 can be supplied with complete sets at immediate application to made. The Home Journal is precisely what its title implies: a Journal for Home. It contains as endless variety of choice, instructive, refined and sterling literature—the amusing News and Gossip of England, France and America, and a chronicle of matters for ladies. It is not only a weekly review of the world's progress, but a highly ornamental parlor newspaper of unique and peculiar interest. It is, in short, the best and cheapest paper ever issued by its editors, and by far the most entertaining and gifted. The terms are only $2 00 a year, (or 3 copies for $5.) Address MORRIS & WILLIS, No 107 Fulton-street, New York.

Together with different kinds of CARRIAGES, to suit the travelling community, now asks a share of patronage due to a public good, and hopes by strict and prompt attention to his line of business, to merit the same

THEREFORE:

Ye youthful heroes, all draw near
And to my feeble song give ear,
If you in Horsemanship do fight
And on some balmy moonlit night,
Perchance some fair one at your side,
Enjoy the pleasure of an evening ride,
A Carriage, Horse or Coach you need
To J. B. Edwards, then first speed,
To serve you all, you'll find him able,
