

COMMERCIAL REVIEW

General Trade Conditions

New York (Special).—R. C. Dun & Co. "Weekly Review of Trade" says: "Anxiety regarding unfavorable possibilities in the future rather than any present misfortune depressed securities and caused cancellation of some orders for merchandise by Western dealers. Retail distribution of goods will be curtailed by the labor controversy unless it is of long duration, as they have saved money during the period of full employment at high prices. Beyond advancing prices of steel and depressing the market for quotations have not been affected by strike of the Amalgamated Association."

Woolen mills are more generally active than at any time this year, orders heavy-weight goods arriving in large numbers. The light-weight season will be open, and although it is expected concessions of from 5 to 10 per cent from last year's prices will be there is prospect of profitable operation unless the raw material should advance.

Stability of prices seems assured in footwear industry. The firm tone is gained by the steadiness of leather buyers are not seeking concessions. Bradstreet's says:
