DOWAGER EMPRESS OF GERMANY DEAD.

Kaiser William's Mother Passes Away at Cronberg.

ELDEST DAUGHTER OF VICTORIA.

The Direct Cause of Death is Certified to Have Been Dropsy Following Cancer, the Dropsy Having Gradually Reached the Heart—Her Majesty Was Conscious to the End, Which Was Calm and Painless.

Cronberg (By Cable).—Victoria Adelaide Maria Louisa, the Dowager Empress Frederick of Germany, died Monday evening at 6.15.

The death of the Dowager Empress was somewhat sudden. At 4 o'clock her physicians reported no change in her condition.

Emperor William and Her Majesty's other children were in the sick room most of the day.

Her royal and Imperial Highness, the Dowager Empress Frederick, was the widow of Emperor Frederick William of Germany and mother of the reigning Kaiser William II. She was the eldest daughter of Queen Victoria of England, and was born on November 21, 1840. She was christened Victoria Adelaide. She was eleven months and 12 days older than her brother, Albert Edward, now King Edward VII. of England. Her other living brothers and sisters are Princess Helena of Schleswig-Holstein, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyle; Prince Arthur, Duke of Connaught, and Prince Beatrice, Duchess of Hesse.

Crown Prince Frederick became Emperor of Germany on the death of his father in March, 1888, but he was then slowly dying of cancer in the throat, and he died on June 15, 1888, after a nominal reign of three months, every moment of which was full of agony both mental and physical. His Empress remained by his side and devoted herself to alleviate his suffering. At his death she became the Dowager Empress, and her son became Emperor.

Empress Victoria Frederick was thus the daughter of a Queen and Empress, the mother of an Emperor, the wife and widow of an Emperor and the sister of a King and Emperor.

The Empress, like her mother before her, wished to have her condition pass as far as possible without observation, but she steadily lost strength with the progress of her terrible malady. The bad news was kept back from week to week, as was done when Queen Victoria was at Osborne after her first stroke of paralysis, and public announcement was made only when the situation became serious.
