Nation's Vast Post Washington (Special).—Auditor Henry A. Castle, for the Postoffice Department, closed the books of the postal service for the feed service for the fiscal year and June 30, 1901, something over three honths being required to balance the ledger accounts with the 77,000 postmasters and make all the other settlements required with the numerous branches of the systhem. The result of the year's business was as follows: Receipts, $111,631,193; expenditures, $115,554,920; net deficit (including loss by fire, etc.), $3,981,520.

The deficit for the fiscal year was less than $4,000,000, and about $1,500,000 smaller than for the preceding year. Owing to the extension of the rural free delivery and other improvements in every department the expenses of the free delivery and other improvements in every department the expenses of the service were $8,200,000 greater than for the preceding year, but the continued prosperity of the nation increased the receipts more than $9,250,000.

There has been a steady decrease in the postal deficits during the last few years. In round figures there were $11,500,000 in 1899, $9,000,000 in 1898, $6,500,000 in 1899, $5,500,000 in 1900 and $4,000,000 in 1901. If this percentage of shrinkage in the deficit should continue it would be entirely wiped out within three years.

It is a significant measure of the increased business activity of the country that while, owing to the enormous extensions of the postal service, its extensions of the postal service, its expenditures have increased $21,500,000, or 22 per cent., in five years, its revenues have increased $20,000 its revenues have increased $20,000 or nues have increased $20,000,000, equiva-lent to 35 per cent., during the same period.

The auditor's report also shows the transactions of the postal money order business for the same period. The aggregate amount of money orders issued during the fiscal year was $294.616 680.99. The amount paid out was $281. 554,711.72. The difference between these two amounts represents principally money orders issued in this country and paid in foreign countries.

The sum total of the monetary transactions of the Post Office Department, including postal receipts and revenues and money orders issued and paid, foots up for the fiscal year 1901 $803,-This total was less than $715,-359,576. 000,000 for the preceding year, showing an increase of nearly $89,000,000. The Post Office Department is thus shown to be easily the leading financial branch of the Government, as it is the most extensive business institution in the world.

COMMERCIAL REVIEW. General Trade Conditions.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: "Trade channels are remarkably free from obstruction, alhough the movement of goods at some points is checked by insufficient transporting facilities. This is a tribute to the unusually heavy shipments, which are shown more definitely by railway earnings in September, these being 9.2 per cent. larger than last year and is 16.7 per cent, above those of 1899. Contracts for an enormous quantity of steel rails, deliverable next year at current quotations, indicate the general confidence in the stability of prices and the expansion of railway facilities required to meet the growing needs of the coun try. Steadiness is still the feature in textile markets. New orders for woolens are slow, but buyers complain of late delivery on old contracts. Corn exports have increased, but are still small; for the week only 843,374 bushels going out from Atlantic ports against 2,144,610 bushels last year and 2,993,232 in 1899. Wheat was also easier, partially because of conflicting estimates of foreign crops and needs, while exports from the United States were smaller than in the preceding week, especially as to flour shipments. There is still a good showing in comparison with earlier years, 4.523,440 bushels going out, against 4,183,603 in 1900 and 4,366,645 two years ago. The great size of the domestic wheat crop this year is indicated by interior receipts of 8,411,775 bushels, against 6,-

'Cotton was easier until the official eport appeared, when the low condiion caused a sharp advance. Failures this week number 205 in the United States, against 208 last year, and 37 in Canada against 23 last year."
