Flies with Which of Insects Are in Vogue.

"Fly nets for horses in harness are old as the hills," said a dealer in horse equipments, reports the New York Sun, "but saddle fly nets, for saddle horses, are something comparatively new. They are made to fit around the cantle of the saddle, from which they extend back over the horse's haunches. The net is made of leather cords, commonly in russet, sometimes in black, attached across in parallel lines to five bars or tapes running lengthwise of the horse's back, the free ends of the cords hanging in the usual manner at the horse's sides.

"As to appearance such a net, seen on a saddle horse, is not only entirely slightly and appropriate there, but it gives to the horse's outfit a touch of picturesqueness.

"Another comparatively new thing for a rider's use is the fly riding whip which has, attached to a handle of about the same length, a hair switch about 18 inches in length. This is something not intended for park use, for which the saddle fly net is entirely suitable, but rather for use in switching the flies off a horse while riding along on the highways and byways; perhaps on a short-tail or, it might be, in a region where they were particularly bother-

DISCOVERED BILL NYE.

Western Man Who Claims to Have
Early Appreciated the Famous Humorist.

Col. Bill Root, of Laramie, Wyo., is probably entitled to the credit of having "discovered" Bill Nye, the humorist. Root now has charge of the Indian village at the pan-American exposition, and tells the following story of how he first met the writer:

"Bill Nye," when he was a young man, wasn't much; in fact, folks in Laramie wondered whether he would eventually dry up and blow away or just die of plain starvation. Things never would come his way, and that same way led through many rocky places. Everything to which he turned hand seemed to wither under it, and he began to think that he was a 'oodoo.'

"Bill was a pretty discouraged sort of a chap when I said to him and his wife one day: 'Come out to the ranch and stay with me for awhile,' and they came. Long before this time Frances, Bill's wife, had made up her mind that Bill was cast in the mold of a lawyer, and nothing would do but Bill must study law. So Bill came along with his old books and would wander around the ranch trying to imbibe ozone and pages of Blackstone. But the cankerworm of worry was in his mind and the ozone and several of the things I had on my cupboard seemed to do little

For love he forfeited his friends
For love he turned away
From honors such as men are glad
To strive for night and day;
For love he lost what nobler men
Would be most loath to lose,
And had no recompense, because
'Twas all for love of booze.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII, OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

SECTION 1—Be it resolved by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Amendment One to Article Eight, Section One. Add at the end of the first paragraph of said section after the words "shall be entitled to a vote at all elections," the words "subject, however, to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact," so that the said section shall read as follows:

SECTION 1—Qualifications of Electors. Every male citizen, twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject, however, to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

1—He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.
2—He shall have resided in the State one year (or, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

3—He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.
4—If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or County tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

Amendment Two to Article Eight, Section Seven. Strike out from said section the words "but no elector shall be deprived of the privilege of voting by reason of his name not being registered," and add to said section the following words, "but laws regulating and requiring the registration of electors may be enacted to apply to cities only provided that such laws be uniform for cities of the same class," so that the said section shall read as follows:

SECTION 7—Uniformity of Election Laws. All laws regulating the holding of elections by the citizens or for the registration of electors shall be uniform throughout the State, but laws regulating and requiring the registration of electors may be enacted to apply to cities only, provided that such laws be uniform for cities of the same class.
