THE MEMORIAL FOR M'KINLEY.

A National Fund Being Raised for the Purpos --- Contributions.

Cleveland, Ohio, (Special) .-- The plan to erect a national memorial over the grave of President McKinley, at Canton, Ohio, has assumed a definite form. The erection of the memorial will be undertaken by the McKinley National Memorial Association, of which William R. Day, former Secretary of State, is Pres-President; Myron T. Herrick, Treasur Viceer, and Ryerson Ritchie. Secretary. The trustees, apointed by President Roosevelt, include George B. Cortelyou, the late President's private secretary; W Murray Crane, of Massachusetts; Robert J. Lowry, of Georgia; Henry Scott, of California, and other w well. known citizens representing different States of the Union.

The association in a statement addressed to the American pople, reports the satisfactory progress of organization. It is desired that an organization be formed in every State and Territory, with local organizations in cities, towns and rural districts for the purpose of raising the required fund for the memorial. All banks have been designated depositories for subscriptions; all postmasters will receive and forward moneys, and all express companies will issue money orders and forward money free of charge

Among ing industries we ar the production of beet events, it was such two y publish elsewhere a letter 1899, and signed by Mr. Oxu Mr. Cutting, the chiefs of this try on the eastern side of the Ro Mountains, showing that this was th happy condition of the trade at that time. If parties masquerading as hee sugar producers are besieging th President and Congress at this m ment, and pretending that they will ruined if Cuban sugar is admitted : six months at half the present rates duty their false pretences ought to exposed.

The letter of Messrs. Oxnard : Cutting was probably written for purpose of inducing the farmers of th Mississippi Valley to go more largely into the cultivation of beets for the sugar factories. This was a laudable motive for telling the truth and showing the large profits which awaited both the beet grower and the manufac turer if the industry were perseveringly and intelligently prosecuted. To this end it was pointed out that farmers could clear $65 per acre by culti vating beets, and might even make $100. But in order to assure the cultivator that he would not be exposed to reverses by possible changes in the tariff, they proceeded to show that the industry stood in no need of protection The beet sugar industry, these gen tlemen say, "stands on as firm a basi as any business in the country." The point out the fact-a very important one-that their product comes out as . finished article, refined and granulated It is not, like cane sugar grown in th West India Islands, a black and offer sive paste, which must be carried wagons to the seaboard and thence ships to the United States, where, at ter another handling, it is put through a costly refinery, and then shipped h rail to the consumer, who may poss bly be in Nebraska, alongside a be sugar factory, which turns out the r fined and granulated article at one f swoop. Indeed, the advantages of t producer of beet sugar for supplyin the domestic consumption are vo great. of flour from wheat. If we can produce wheat cheaper than Europe, then naturally we can produce flour cheaper, as we do. But the writers of the letter do not depend upon a-priori reasoning to prove that they can make sugar at a profit without tariff protection. They point to the fact that under the McKinley tariff of 1890, when sugar was free of duty, the price of the article was four cents per pound. Yet a net profit of $3 per ton was made by the beet sugar factories under those conditions, not counting any bounty on the home production of sugar. They boast that they made this profit while working under absolute free trade, and they have a right to be proud of this result of their skill and industry. Many beet sugar factories had been started in bygone years, back in the sixties and seventies of the nineteenth century, and had failed, because the projectors did not understand the business. Since then great progress has been made, both here and abroad, in the cultivation and manipulation of the beet. What was impossible thirty. years ago is now entirely feasible. Th industry is already on a solid and en during basis. There are factories in the United States, these gentlemen tell us in their letter, capable of using 350,000 tons of beets per annum at a profit of $3 per ton, and this would make a profit of $1,050,000 as the income to be earned under absolute free

It must be plain to readers of this letter, signed by the captains of the beet sugar industry, that the people in Washington who are declaiming. against the temporary measure which the President of the United States urges for the relief of the Cuban people, are either grossly ignorant of the subject, or are practising gross deception. The tenable ground for them is to say: "Other people are having protection that they do not need, an therefore we ought to have more the we need." This would be consiste with the letter of Messrs. Oxnard a Cutting, but nothing else is so:
