MOUNT JOY BOROUGH.

Happenings of the Week Told in a Brief Yet Interesting Manner.

Ralph Myers spent last week at Philadelphia.

Miss Sarah Livezey of Philadelphia, is the guest of Janet Wharvel.

Jacob Shrite placed an additional oil tank a short distance east of town.

It looks as though it rained white wash in the vicinity of the Farmers' Inn.

Edwin R. McNeal, one of Marietta's merriest men, spent Sunday in town.

The ice house on the rear of W. B. Bender's lot was converted into a stable.

M. J. Brecht was last Tuesday re-elected county superintendent for another term.

Who wouldn't give 25 cents a month toward a street sprinkler in town this summer.

A leak in the water main at the Washington House accounts for the cellar being always filled with water. The main was dug up and repaired on Saturday.

Prof. E. Ranson Barclay, formerly principal of the Mount Joy schools, more recently at Mechanicsburg Pa., has been elected principal of the Huntingdon schools for a term of three years, at a salary of $1,200.

No use in writing letters and waiting several days for a reply to find out how fishing is or how our former townsman is progressing at Glen Orchard. Just call up 769 A and have a little conversation with A. S. Flowers.

William B. Doyle, celebrated his 72nd birthday anniversary last Thursday and was the recipient of a letter surprise. His many friends from Mount Joy, Columbia and Philadelphia overwhelmed him with congratulations.

The walls of the Lutheran church at some places, have a tendency to leak during a heavy rain and the mortar is now being removed and replaced by cement so as to avoid further damage. J. Y. Kline of Florin is doing the work.

A certain young man in the west end of town tried to imitate the strong man who gave exhibitions in this place several evenings last week. On Sunday he tried to bend an iron rod at Abner Hershey's and is now nursing a badly cut hand.

William, son of Monroe Sheaffer, of near town and Sadie, daughter of John Pannebecker and wife, of this place, two well known young people, were united in marriage at Marietta on Sunday by Rev. Kuder, Lutheran pastor at that place.

Charles Willer, proprietor of the Washington House, lost a fine hog one day last week. Being inquisitive as to the cause of its death, an examination followed the result of which was the finding of a piece of glass in the animal's throat that it had evidently tried to eat.

Amos B. Root and wife entertained the class of 1902, in honor of their son Albert, a member of the class, and the directors and faculty of the borough schools after the graduating exercises on Friday evening at their home on Marietta street. Excellent refreshments were served and a good time was had by all present.

Mount Joy Alumni Meeting.

The fifth annual entertainment and ball of the Mount Joy High School Alumni Association was held in Mt Joy Hall on Monday evening and was attended by a large concourse of people. A good program was rendered after which the Hall was cleared and dancing kept up until the wee sma hours. The affair was a very successful one and was attended by more people than any of the meetings held heretofore. The musical features of the program deserve special mention and the recitation by Miss Mary Newpher elicited prolonged applause.

Mount Joy's Commencement.

Mount Joy borough had its turn at the High School Commencement business on Friday and the town folks crowded into the hall to witness the function. Three young men closed their school days and were suitably rewarded in the customary manner for the faithful work they have performed. They were Walter L. Eshleman, R. Albert Root and Victor S. Haldemen. The class colors, purple and gold, were used to effectively drape the stage, which was also adorned with plants and flowers in an artistic arrangement. Victor Haldeman of Florin had the valedictory, and he acquitted himself with befitting credit. His subject was "Historic Bridges." Walter Eshleman had the salutatory oration entitled "The Rebellion's Decisive Battle." The theme of Albert Root's oration was "The Mission of the Ideal."

Services in a Saloon.

Although there are eight churches in Mount Joy, divine services were held in the Phoenix saloon on Sunday evening, and such was the case for the past four Sundays. Rev. J. T. Wilson conducts the services and the regular pontifical customary in a church, is transacted except praying, which is cut out of the program, why we do not know. These services brought into existence, the practice of the once famous colored choir which on many occasions made the sturdy oaks tremble by the echo of their bazoos. Brother Bailor was the choir master on Sunday evening and to hear him recalled to our memory the happy woods gatherings held in this community by the colored folks years ago.

Raising Tobacco Under Cover.

The State Board of Agriculture has decided to make an experiment of raising tobacco under cover on the farm of Dr. H. M. Alexander at Marietta, and a force of men were busily engaged last week erecting poles and scaffolding over which the canvas covering will be stretched. One acre of Sumatra tobacco will be raised in this manner. This is an entirely new departure here, and the result will be watched with intense interest by tobacco raisers generally. Besides this half acre an equal amount of land will be devoted to the cultivation of Cuban Havana.

Joint and Vicinity.

Elmer Engle, finished planting corn on Saturday.

Christ Snyder, took a flying trip to Lititz on Thursday.

Ephraim Sharer, pretends planting tobacco before long.

Susan Dougherty, was the guest of Henry Zeiger on Sunday.

Some of our fishermen were fishing on Thursday but few fish were caught.

Daniel Miller, delivered his tobacco on Friday and his steers on Saturday.

New Delivery Wagon.

S. S. Gingrich, proprietor of the Empire Bakery in this place is now delivering his products in a very fine wagon which for appearance is unsurpassed. Although fine feathers do not always make fine birds, but just as nice as his wagon looks drawn by a span of steeds, so good and healthy is his bread, cakes or anything baked at his bakery. F. G. Pennell at Mount Joy deserves credit for the wagon's appearance.

A Bad Accident

On Friday morning, Mabel, the eldest daughter of Amos Greiner, of Milton Grove, met with a serious accident when returning from the creamery. The horse frightened at some object and dashing away, collided with a post, hurling the young lady from the vehicle over a fence on her face on the solid earth fracturing her nasal bone and disfiguring her face. She is slowly recovering we are glad to say.
