

PRODUCING DYNAMITE.

Sand Dunes of Indiana Devoted to the Explosive.

In the midst of a stretch of desolate sand dunes in Lake county, Ind., scarcely more than thirty miles from Chicago, is a spot which might well be the Mecca of the anarchist.

It is a plague spot to those who look upon it from afar, but to those whose duty takes them into mixing houses, nitrotrates, acid works, packhouses and magazines in the plant of nearly five hundred acres it is a place where wages are good, where employment is steady, and where—even through the atmosphere of unceasing watchfulness and care—the spirit of gossip and laughter and song may find its vent.

But watchfulness and care on the part of men have not sufficed to reassure the builders of such a plant for profit. Each building is separated from the others by wide spaces, in which sand embankments have been heaped as a further precaution against a possible explosion in one building communicating itself to another.

BANDITS DYNAMITED TWO SAFES.

The Bandits Mounted Horses and Disappeared in the Ravines that Lead into Marshall Pass. The Sheriff at Salida and Sheriffs of Adjoining Counties and a Dozen Poses Are in Pursuit.

Salida, Col. (Special).—A report was received here shortly before noon to the effect that the Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge passenger train, which left here during the night, was held up and robbed by several men near Sargents west of Marshall Pass.

The robbery occurred at 8.50 o'clock at Chester, Col., 250 miles west of Denver. The engineer was compelled at the point of a revolver to stop the train by masked men, who had climbed over the tender. Two safes in the express car were blown open but it is asserted by officers of the Rio Grande Express Company that the robbers failed to secure any plunder from the safes.

The passengers were compelled to alight from the cars and line up along the tracks in the canyon, and they were relieved of all their money and valuables. Many of the passengers threw away their money, watches and jewelry among the rocks before the robbers searched them. There were many tourists among the passengers, and while it is not known how much the robbers secured, it is presumed that the losses were heavy.

The train was the westbound narrow gauge passenger. The cars, as usual at this season, were all filled. There were four robbers. The scene of the robbery is in a wild, mountainous country at the foot of Marshall Pass on the west slope.

The bandits mounted horses and disappeared in the ravines that lead into Marshall Pass. The sheriff at Salida and sheriffs of adjoining counties and a dozen possees are in pursuit.

About the Age of a Small Boy.

"How old is that child?" asked the conductor.

"I'm old do you think?" returned the boy.

"Over the half-fare age, I should say," said the conductor.

"Don't seem to me so," retorted the woman.

"Well, you ought to know."

"Yes," thoughtfully. "I suppose I ought, but I forgot to ask. He ain't my child, you know, an' I'm jest takin' him along as a favor to his ma."

"How old are you, Johnny?" demanded the conductor.

"Dunno," answered the boy.

"Well, madam, I'll have to charge for him," announced the conductor.

"If you can't or won't tell me—"

"His age ain't any of my business," broke in the woman. "It's yours, an' if you make a mistake, I'll sue your old road for damages. I ain't got but mighty little money with me, an' if you make me pay an' I run short an' git in trouble, an' his ma tells me he's under half-fare age when I see her, I'll make your old road pay good for it. You advertise what you'll do an' if you don't do it—"

"If you'll say he's under age," suggested the conductor, "I'll take your word for it."

"I ain't sayin' a thing. It's for you to say, an' I'm jest warnin' you that you better not make any mistake, for his ma'll know, an' if you take money that I need it'll go mighty hard with you if you're wrong."

"But you ought to know."

"Why? Your road don't pay me for knowin'?" it pays you. But I'm not goin' to raise a rumpus. I'm jest warnin' you. How much?"

The conductor scratched his head thoughtfully.

"Wait till I come back this way," he said.

He didn't come back that way until she got off the train.

PELVIC CATARRH CAUSES

Palpitation of the Heart, Cold Hands and Feet, Sinking Feelings—Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. X. Schneider, 2409 Thirty-seventh Place, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"After taking several remedies without result, I began in January, 1901, to take your valuable remedy, Peru-na. I was a complete wreck. Had palpitation of the heart, cold hands and feet, female weakness, no appetite, trembling, sinking feeling nearly all the time. You said I was suffering with systemic catarrh, and I believe that I received your help in the nick of time. I followed your directions carefully and can say today that I am well again. I cannot thank you enough for my cure. I will always be your debtor. I have already recommended Peru-na to my friends and neighbors and they all praise it. I wish that all suffering women would try it. I testify to this according to the truth."—Mrs. X. Schneider.

Over half the women have catarrh in some form or another. And yet, probably, not a tenth of the women know that their disease is catarrh. To distinguish catarrh of various organs it has been named very differently.

One woman has dyspepsia, another bronchitis, another Bright's disease, another liver complaint, another consumption, another female complaint. These women would be very much surprised to hear that they are all suffering with chronic catarrh. But it is so, nevertheless.

Each one of these troubles and a great many more are simply catarrh—that is, chronic inflammation of the mucous lining of which ever organ is affected. Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other. This is why Peru-na has become so justly famous in the cure of female diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Peru-na does not palliate—it cures.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from Robinson, Ill., the following praise for the great catarrhal tonic Peru-na. Congressman Crowley says:

"Mrs. Crowley has taken a number of bottles of Peru-na on account of nervous troubles. It has proven a strong tonic and lasting cure. I can cheerfully recommend it."—J. B. Crowley.

A catarrh book sent free by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
