Something Unusual.

David Wagner, who resides on West Main street, Mount Joy, has a hen that was a chick this spring. Several days ago this young hen laid an egg and to Mr Wagner's surprise the egg contained yolks. Several days later it laid another of the same character. On Wednesday another egg that was laid by the same hen, was an egg with a hard shell inside of another egg. If any body has hens laying anything more unusual than this, we would certainly be glad to hear from them.

Big Time at Newtown.

The Junior Cornet Band of Newtown has completed arrangements for another festival to be held in the Band Hall on Saturday evening Aug. 2. They invite everybody to come and spend a pleasant evening. Refreshments of all kinds will be served and a visiting band will be on deck and make the welkins ring with sweet music. Don't miss it for if you do you'll regret it.

Death of Mrs. Mary Engle

Mrs. Mary Engle, widow of the late Hiram Engle, of Marietta, died at the home of her son-in-law, John K. Miller, of Maytown, at ten o'clock on Sunday evening. On Saturday, while visiting her son-in-law she suffered an attack of paralysis—but lingered until the end came at the above-named house. Mrs. Engle was a member of the River Brethren Church. Her husband, who died twenty-eight years ago, was a very prominent fruit grower in the upper end of the county. Deceased is survived by two sons—Alvin H. and H. Wilson, both of Philadelphia—and two daughters—Elizabeth, wife of John K. Miller, of Maytown, and Emily, wife of Samuel Greider, of near Mount Joy.

The funeral will be held at Reich's meeting-house at ten o'clock this morning. Interment in the adjoining graveyard.

Death of Harriet P. Watson

Miss Harriet P. Watson, a daughter of the late Dr. Nathaniel Watson and a member of one of the most prominent families in the north-western section of the county, died at her home "Millbank," near Mt. Joy, Monday. She was well-known in Lancaster city. The funeral, which was private, was held on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, with interment at Donegal.

A Desk Very Much in Dispute.

Samuel Sheaffer sold a writing desk to Millard Foltz, several weeks ago. It is alleged that Foltz did not pay for the article he purchased, and on Tuesday evening Constable Donaghy, accompanied by Mr. Sheaffer, went for and took the desk to the latter's home. Later Foltz brought suit before Squire Ricker. After a number of witnesses were heard the case was returned to court.

Suit for Damages

Last Saturday evening a Love Feast and feet washing, one of the quaint customs of the River Brethren denomination, was celebrated at Reich's meeting house. The brethren came from far and near to the services, and the attendance was immense. The services were conducted by the Revs. Aaron and Jacob Martin, of Elizabethtown, Jacob Hess, of Newtown, and Jonas Mumma, of Florin. These events invariably draw large audiences, a great proportion of those in attendance going out of curiosity. It is, however, one of the tents of the River Brethren faith and they will go to no end of trouble to be present.

Dental Parlois Removed.

The Progressive Dental Parlors, which heretofore occupied rooms 224-26 of the Woolworth Building, Lancaster, have moved their quarters to 26 East King street, over the Union Trust Co. An attractive appearance in another column of this paper. Their work is A No 1, as all will and do say that were treated by these dentists, Dr. C. L. Thourot and Dr. W. Spry Hurlock. Lindsay, of East Donegal, inspected the tobacco being grown at the State experimental station on the farm of Dr. H. M. Alexander. Later they were entertained at a substantial dinner at Wenger's Hotel, Maytown, by Commissioner Henderson.

A Paralyzed Cow.

Simon Rutt of West Donegal township has a large well bred cow that is paralyzed. She uses her head and tail but is helpless otherwise. She was found in the Conoy creek, which flows through the field. It required the efforts of seven men to remove her. It is no new disease but a rare one, and one to which the greatest milkers and heaviest cows are subject, when springing. Mr. Rutt built a tent over her and will try to save her.

Wanted Push.

Some one called at a local store the other day and asked one of the clerks for "Push." The clerk looked exclamation points, stating they had no such thing. The determined customer would not give up. He was then asked whether he could point to it if he saw it. He then owed the surrounding and pointed to "Force." He made "Force" and "Push" synonymous.

Right You Are Percy.

A Maytown resident, who wore a No. 6 shoe, now walks about in a No. 4. He has been washing his feet in alum water for four years past to reduce them. It would be a good remedy for a long tongue. Marietta Register.
