A New Railroad

On Saturday afternoon H. S. Kerbaugh of Philadelphia, who was recently awarded the contracts for the new work of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, filed a lien of agreement in the prothonotary's office at Lancaster, to cover the three sections of the work embodied in his contracts.

The first is the stone arch bridge 2000 feet long, across the Susquehanna at Schock's mills; for a new double track railroad from a connection with the Northern Central at Wago siding in York county to the west end of the proposed bridge, and to build a two track railroad from the east end of the bridge to connect with the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad.

The last proposed road is understood will join the Mount Joy branch a few miles west of that borough, and is an entirely new development in the plan of the Pennsylvania railroad.

On the contrary, as the distance between the eastern end of the bridge and the Mount Joy Branch is only about five miles, with no special topographical difficulties in the way of building the short line is regarded as a means to quickly help the freight blockade while the other line across the country, about 30 miles in length, is being constructed.

Death of Bobby Way.

Robert Way, a colored resident of town about 85 years of age, died at the home of James Way on Sunday morning at eight o'clock, death resulting from injuries received by falling down a flight of steps the Friday evening prior. Deputy Coroner B. S. Dillinger and his physician Dr. J. J. Newpher held an investigation on Sunday forenoon. The verdict was that he came to his death by injuries received from falling down a steps, superinducing apoplexy. The funeral was held on Tuesday with interment in the Lincoln cemetery.

Glad to Get Back

While glancing over the newsy columns of the Marietta Register, we noticed the following which is true as "guns iron:"

"At the Columbia opera house on Saturday night 'A Runaway Match' was played. That same play was enacted in Mount Joy several weeks ago, but they've run back again."

There's no place like home.

Should be Re-Patented

The Marietta Register says an automobile passed through that town recently and made more noise than a dozen corn shellers in operation.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Many Interesting Local Notes From all Over the County.

The revival services in Salem united Brethren church, of Silver Spring, are still in progress.

John Spangler sold to John S. Kepperling, two lots of ground in Salunga; consideration, $1,200.

H. F. Ruhl, a Manheim druggist won $50 the second prize in a contest for the best written advertisement of Printer's Ink, an advertising journal published in New York City.

Foot ball to a farmer is like the throwing of several bushels of corn on the ears amidst a drove of 22 hogs and watching the porkers going for the feed.

J. L. Book has sold his mill property, on the Marietta and Mount Joy turnpike, to a Mr. Gish, of Franklin county, on private terms. Possession will not be given for another year.

Rural mail routes will compel the making of better high-ways. The government has not sentimental feelings on this subject and simply gives the alternative of fixing the roads or losing the service.

John L. Sullivan, former champion heavyweight prize-fighter of the world, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court. He said his liabilities were $2,657 and his assets as $60 worth of wearing apparel.

Quite a number of farmers in the vicinity of Marietta have already sold their tobacco on the poles. The prices so far, with but a very few exceptions, were 8 and 2 cents per pound. The crop is curing nicely and will soon be ready for stripping.

A Foot Ball Victim.

Earl Shelly, ten years old, a son of Elias Shelly, tenant on the farm of Henry S. Rich, a half-mile north of Marietta, was painfully injured while playing foot ball on Friday evening. Earl attends school at the Rock Point school, and after the session two teams lined up and prepared to fight it out. In a scrimmage the lad got under the crush of humanity, and his left leg was broken at the thigh. Dr. F. M. Harry of Mount Joy dressed the injuries.

Dagos, Huns, Yaps, Yahos, Etc

For the representation of many nationalities, Steelton is hard to beat. Allen Drawbaugh, principal of the Fothergill School, in that borough, claims to have more nationalities represented in his school than any other public school in the State. He has 53 pupils, 48 of whom are foreigners and 5 Americans, one of the latter being a negro.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by J. S. Carmany Florin Pa. And all Mount Joy druggists.

New Way of Weighing Hogs.

Wm. Mateer, killed one of his large porkers on Monday. He says it was as heavy as the one of last year, 490, although he did not weigh it—he guessed its weight from the amount of feed it eat.

Better Than a Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on the affected parts, is better than a plaster for a lame back and for pains in the side or chest. Pain Balm has no superior as a liniment for the relief of deep seated, muscular and rheumatic pains. For sale by J. S. Carmany Florin Pa. And all Mount Joy druggists.
