Never heard of her.
On a crowded trolley car the other morning two men were carrying on a conversation between glances at their respective newspapers. The older man was commenting upon some incident that had evidently occurred the evening previously and his companion was listening attentively as he could and study the market report in front of his eyes.

"That speech was worthy of Mrs. Malaprop," said the dignified old gentleman.

"Ah," replied his companion, looking up with sudden interest. "Is she a friend of yours? Do I know her?"

With a peculiar expression on his face the older man glanced at the bland youth as he answered.

"No. She's a myth." Then he gave his undivided attention to his newspaper.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Made Him Understand.
"Absent yesterday," said the aged manager, as he adjusted his glasses, to the smart young man.

"Yes, sir," replied the clerk.
"Absent from illness?"

"No, sir."
"Oh, you're honest, at any rate. Most men would say they were."
"I haven't been absent from illness for nearly a year."
"You haven't?" The old man looked surprised.

"No, sir. It has been with me all the time."
"What has?"
"Illness of some sort."
"But you said that yesterday."
"Yesterday I was absent on account of illness, sir."
The old man thought the matter over for a minute or two, and then he said:

"Yes, yes; I see. You're rather particular in your use of words."
"Yes, sir. Study to use them correctly."
"Of course; and I'm a trifle careless. Now, please see if this sentence is correct: 'Hereafter you will be absent from my displeasure.'"
"Ye-es, sir."
"You will also be absent on account of my displeasure."
"Ye-es, sir."
"And because of my displeasure."
"Ye-es, sir."
"Quite right. I'm glad that I have sufficient command of language to make you understand me. The cashier will pay you your wages. Good-day."

Had Done Her Part.
Kitty had been told that the thunder was the voice of "the good man up the sky," warning her to run into the house to avoid the rain, and on one or two occasions she had failed to heed the warning and suffered unpleasant consequences.

She was playing out of doors the other morning when there came a clap of distant thunder. She dropped everything and scudded into the house, but the rain failed to come. After waiting till she became impatient she went to the door, looked up at the clouds, and called out:

"If you're going to rain why don't you do it? I've been in here ten minutes!"
