

ADVERTISERS SHOULD KNOW THAT THE BULLETIN HAS A LARGER LOCAL CIRCULATION THAN ANY MOUNT JOY PAPER

OUB BIG PARADE

Almost Three Hundred People in Line on Monday. Memorial Day was observed in a very appropriate manner in this place on Monday afternoon. The decorations throughout the town were fair while the parade surpassed all those ever held here on previous occasions. Many people thronged the streets to get a glimpse at the paraders and we are glad to say that Mount Joy was quite a centre for the country folks for miles around.

Going on Four.

With this issue we begin the fourth year since the birth of The "Bulletin." We claim for it a larger local circulation than that of any Mount Joy newspaper. We make no idle promises or bluffs. We believe we work harder than any of our opponents to get the news for our readers. We are the pioneer 50 cent a year newspaper publishers in this part of Lancaster county.

Those Ball Games.

The Juniors from town, went to Middletown on Saturday where they were defeated in a very interesting eleven inning game by a score of 13 to 14.

To Extend Lancaster Trolley.

The Philadelphia, Lancaster and Harrisburg Passenger Railway Company has decided to extend its lines to Lebanon, and the work of building the road will be begun soon. The extension is to be built from a point on the Lancaster, Elizabethtown and Middletown turnpike road in Mt. Joy township, Lancaster county, passing through Bellaire, Lawn, Mt. Gretna and Bismarck, Lebanon county, to the centre of Lebanon.

A Pony Brigade

Many of our citizens could not understand what the five ponies each carrying a rider, meant in town on Sunday but here it is. They were Ephraim Morton, John Caley, Harry Hickey, Dan'l Turnher and Edward Cooper of Columbia, all of whom own a pony and were out on a pleasure ride. The party called on Mr. Morton's brother, Harry, on New Haven street.

Sold Another.

On Saturday H. B. Nissley disposed of another of his desirable building lots at Florin. The purchaser of this one was John Dyer, No. 3, and thereon will build a residence.

Well, Well, Well.

A glugging match took place on Monday between the Foundry and all teams of the Greyhound on Saturday afternoon.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Is Foot-Washing a Command of God? A Difference of Opinion. A writer a few weeks ago asked the Christian Herald, published at New York, the questions "Why do so many churches drop the practice of foot-washing? Is it not a command of God?" These are questions upon which there are great differences of opinion.

This answer to these questions Rev. A. H. Long of this place, says is very unsatisfactory. He tells us that the practice of foot-washing is neglected by nearly all the churches because the ministers of these churches do not teach and preach it. In his opinion the washing of one another's feet is a command obligatory upon all the disciples of Christ.

Death's Doings.

Cameron Gantz, colored, aged four years, died early in the week at the home of his parents here. The funeral was held Friday with interment in the Lincoln cemetery.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock at the house and at 2 o'clock at the Evangelical church with interment in the Eberle cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Bastian of Harrisburg, died at her home on Friday morning, being within a day, 27 years old. She leaves a husband, one son and a daughter. Deceased was a daughter of Ed Shreiner and wife, formerly of this place. The remains were brought here yesterday on Sashore Express, services being held in the Bethel church at one o'clock, with interment in the Mount Joy cemetery.

A Close Call.

While Fred Baker and wife were returning home from Lancaster on Decoration evening, a man attempted to grab the lines at the school house, east of town. Just as the man grabbed, Mr. Baker pulled up the lines and off went the horse like a flash, knocking the stranger down, the rear wheel of the vehicle passing over him.

Another Grocery.

We are informed that E. Marsh Trexler, who has been clerking for T. M. Breneman for a number of years, has rented the building vacated by Heilig Brothers, and will open a grocery store in the very near future.
