Men and Women Who Reached Years of Remarkable Length—Many Centennarians.

The late Pope Leo had a long life, but compared with the ages of others who had gone before him he was comparatively youthful at his death. Thomas Farr and Henry Jenkins are, respectively, credited with the ages of 152 and 163. Jeanne Serimphan was married when she was 127 and died when she was 128. Dr. Dufournel married at 116 and became the father of two children and died at 120. Marie Priou reached the age of 158. A woman of Metz, the mother of 24 children, died at the age of 100. Surgeon Politman celebrated his one hundred and fortieth birthday. Patrick O'Neil buried seven wives and died at 120, and a Norwegian peasant is recorded as dying at 160 and leaving two sons, one aged 108 and the other only nine summers. Robert Taylor lived to be 134 and died of excitement on receiving the picture of Queen Victoria sent by herself. An Irishman named Brown who was a habitual drunkard, lived to be 128; he had a daily jag for 90 years. Durand d'Estival, of Cahors, lived to be 128. A woman of 124 drank strong coffee in great quantities all her days, while a man of 114 lived on fruit, chiefly melons, and chewed lemon peel.

An entirely new scheme of whisky peddling has just been discovered in the Indian Territory, says the Topeka Capital, and it seems to have been going on for months. The officers of the district northwest of Herbert have known for some time that whisky was being sold to various parties, but not until recently were the peddlers caught. They had traveled around the country in an old wagon drawn by a poor span of Indian ponies and were, presumably, buying eggs and poultry. They would sell small bottles of liquor to farmers and Indians through the neighborhood and one dollar a pint was the usual price. The officers discovered that both axes of the old wagon were of iron and very large. These axes were hollow and would hold about four gallons each. The peddlers would remove a small bolt and insert a pump and draw the desired amount of whisky. One of the peddlers admits having sold whisky in this way for five months, and has made enough money to buy a farm in Texas. He says he will serve his time in jail and then buy a farm.

Over the Deep, Blue Sea. Every maritime corner of the world has its deeply-rooted notions as to the best fashion in which to shape and spread its sails to the favoring breeze, writes Frank H. Taylor, in Four-Track News. Half the charm of far-away lands is found in the barbaric craft which enrich the foregrounds. In the United States, where the Cape Cod "bankers" and Baltimore clippers were created and from which the "America" went over the ocean to humble the yachtsmen of Britain, the science of yachting seems to have reached the highest point. At any rate the cup is still with us. Our way of getting over more water in less time than anybody else by favor of Boreas is apparently the best way.

Centers of European Population. London and Manchester are still disputing as to which is the greater European center of population. Most people would suppose that London owns the title beyond peradventure. Even if one draws a circle with a radius of 30 miles about Charing Cross station one gets a population of more than 4,000,000, as against 5,000,000 within a similar distance from the Manchester exchange. But protruding a circle with a 40-mile radius one gets a greater Manchester that shows a population of more than 8,000,000, as against a greater London of only about 7,000,000.

THE GREAT SUNDAY "PRESS" Everybody should make a point of getting and reading a new magazine which is issued each week with "THE SUNDAY PRESS." This magazine is a new departure in journalism. It has eight pages of color printing; it is printed on extra fine paper and is attracting a great deal of attention among the publishers throughout the world. It is printed on the only Webb lithograph press ever invented and throughout its sixteen pages the reading matter and the illustrations are of the highest character. For people who have been looking for a thoroughly up-to-date magazine with information that is valuable this new publication, which is given free with every copy of "THE SUNDAY PRESS," fills a long-felt want. It is worth while for every reader of this paper to look this Magazine over carefully.

RAPHO. The roads are drying off nicely. Wheat and grass fields are putting on a green coat. The sawmill men are pushing their work at the Chiques meeting house grounds. They intend to finish up in a week or so. On Tuesday Miss Minnie Ginder closed the term at Hosler's school; on Wednesday the Sunnyside school closed, and on Friday John Brubaker will close the term at Chiques Hill.

On Tuesday evening the last singing of the season was held at the Mastertonville schoolhouse. The class that had been under the instruction of C. K. Lehman was an entire success.

Sick Headache

When your head aches, there is a storm in the nervous system, centering in the brain.

This irritation produces pain in the head, and the turbulent nerve current sent to the stomach causes nausea, vomiting.

This is sick headache, and is dangerous, as frequent and prolonged attacks weaken the brain, resulting in loss of memory, inflammation, epilepsy, fits, dizziness, etc.

Allay this stormy, irritated, aching condition by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They stop the pain by soothing, strengthening and relieving the tension upon the nerves—not by paralyzing them, as do most headache remedies.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do not contain opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine or similar drugs.

Sick headache is hereditary in my family. My father suffered a great deal, and for many years I have had spells that were so severe that I was unable to attend to my business affairs for a day or so at a time. During a very severe attack of headache, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they relieved me almost immediately. Since then I take them when I feel the spell coming on and it stops it at once.

JOHN J. McEELAIN, Pres. S. B. Eng. Co., South Bend, Ind. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
