Large advertisement for Montgomery Ward & Co., Chicago, featuring 'Doing Things Well' and 'a plain business proposition' with illustrations of various vehicles and their prices.

Doing Things Well

Just a few plain words—no idle talk, but a plain business proposition

are, here is something for you. We own and directly manage our vehicle plant. We sell direct to users and have for 33 years. We add a small profit to the actual cost of material and labor. Our way cuts out travelers' salaries and expenses, the jobber's and the dealer's profits, and gives you for your money what you pay for. Wheels, gear, body, top, etc., in the shape of a good, well made and nicely finished rig. Next, We do not claim to be the only people who can build good vehicles. No. Others could if they would. Certain it is that many don't. Like a vehicle manufacturer once said: "I lay awake at night to see how cheap I can make them, not how good." The desire to make money quick is so strong that they do not hesitate to bring their work actually down to the danger line. I can put on our rigs the same grade of wheels that is used by many other houses and save $10,000 this year.

Here is your question. What am I going to get for my money? Send for our Catalogue at once. It is the best we have ever issued—it will interest you. When we started our factory it was not to build an average buggy. We determined to make ideal work and to give the people that bought from us the strongest, most reliable and best finished vehicle for the money ever sold. Candidly, that is just exactly what we are doing. That is what your money will get for you here. This explains why our vehicle trade increased 20 per cent in 1904; why others fell behind 30. We build our work to last. We are looking forward to the triumph of coming years. We mean that a reputation for good vehicles at the lowest prices shall outlive the temptations to cheapness.
