Father Mysterious.

Mrs. H. H. Brandt of No. 11 South Mary Street, Lancaster, formerly of this place, wife of Confectioner Brandt, was hurt under rather mysterious circumstances on Sunday evening, while she was on her way to church with her child near the corner of West King and Mary streets she suddenly felt a blow back of the right ear, and, putting her hand up, found a scalp wound which bled freely. Believing she was shot, Mrs. Brandt hurried as fast as possible to Dr. Prizer's office, where the wound was dressed. It looked as though it might have been made by an air rifle or a torpedo. Police Sergeant Negley, who looked up the case, inclining to the latter belief. A Mr. Fisher, who resides in the neighbor of the occurrence, saw a couple of young men run away just after Mrs. Brandt was hurt, and other persons say they heard a shot. So far the police have not learned who the person was who hurt Mrs. Brandt. The affair created considerable excitement in the vicinity of West King and Mary streets.

Mt. Joy Athletic Association.

A number of enthusiastic citizens met at Dr. E. W. Garber's pharmacy last evening and organized what will be known as the Mount Joy Athletic Association. The grounds on Columbia Avenue have already been leased and will be put in shape ere long. The association will be limited to thirty members and was formed for the purpose of recreating the shape of croquet, tether ball, lawn tennis, etc. At last night's meeting the following officers were elected:

Pres.—Dr. O. G. Longenecker, V. Pres.—Prof. G. E. Mark, Sec.—Chas. A. Greider, Treas.—W. W. Cassel, Executive Committee—Dr. J. J. Wepher, Rey. K. J. Stewart, Dr. W. Garber.

Governor Visits Our Section. Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker and wife were on Saturday visitors to Marietta, having been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hiestand, at their country home. The visit was a purely social one, the Governor being a cousin of Mrs. Hiestand, and having been of the wedding party when the then Miss Elida Whitaker, of Phoenixville, became Mrs. Hiestand. During the afternoon points of interest were visited, including the historic old church at Donegal and Maytown, the birthplace of the late General Simon Cameron. To an interviewer in Marietta the Governor expressed himself as delighted with this place and its surroundings, and said he will surely come again. The distinguished couple returned to the Capital City at 6:05 p. m., over the Pennsylvania Railroad. A Winty Snap. Sunday's weather gave us a most unpleasant surprise, for it was more like an early November day than April 18. The mercury took a decided drop Saturday night, and several times on Sunday it snowed, the heaviest flurry being about three o'clock. For awhile, not long to be sure, the air seemed as full of snow flakes as during an old-fashioned winter storm. The day was alternately bright and cloudy, Old Sol doing his best to shine, but only succeeding in getting out from behind the clouds at intervals. Sixteen New Members. The following persons were taken into the Lutheran church on Sunday: H. C. Schock, Frank Schock, Frank G. Drabenstadt, Wm. K. Keller, Claud S. Zeller, Mrs. Wm. Dillinger, Mrs. Geo. Sille, Dyer, Miss Sara E. H. Ethel Harry, Miss Annie F. M. C. S. Longenecker, M. Aulthouse.
