THE RECORD.
In these days of keen newspaper competition it is gratifying to observe that "The Philadelphia Record" still holds its place as the foremost newspaper of Pennsylvania a position it has occupied with honor to itself and credit to the community for many years. Not only does it lead in circulation, but its influence to-day is even stronger than it has ever been before, which is saying much. In the manner of giving the news it is invariably first in the field, while its editorial page continues to be a powerful champion of the cause of the people.
Editorially "The Record" ranks with the best. Its opinions are not only sound and scholarly, they are fearless and independent as well. It truckles to no political power. It is deliberate in its judgment of men and measures affecting public life, and when those judgments are once formed there is no equivocation what we most admire about "The Record" is its backbone.
The success of such a paper is consequently not to be wondered at; it has the people with it because the people realize that when it makes a fight it is fighting for them. This has ever been "The Record's" policy, to advocate the things that tend toward the public good. There have been times in the past when it has seemed to even antagonize its own interests by taking the unpopular side of a controversy, but has eventually demonstrated its farsightedness by bringing the public to its way of thinking. An illustration of this occurred more than a decade ago when, single handed and in the face of tremendous opposition, it advocated the introduction of trolley cars into Philadelphia. Looking back, it seems almost incomprehensible that such a condition of affairs could have existed.
Many other illustrations of the progressive spirit of "The Record" could be cited, but the greatest lies in the fact that it is appreciated to the extent of boasting the largest circulation of any newspaper published in Pennsylvania. Aug. 22-23.

Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. DEMOCRATS FILLED WITH HOPE Defeat of the Republican Ticket in This State Next Fall Would Give Them Big Lead in Presidential Race.

[Special Correspondence.]
Harrisburg, August 21.
Pennsylvania Democrats are eagerly waiting to join in the demonstration of the national Democracy over the homecoming of their leader, William Jennings Bryan.
There is already on foot a well organized movement in this state to bring about the nomination of the "manly Democrat of Nebraska" for the presidency, and the hope and expectation of leading Democrats that the result of the election in Pennsylvania next November will materially contribute toward that end.
The Democratic state convention which named Lewis Emery, Jr., for the governorship and put upon the ticket with him that trio of well-known Bryanites, Messrs. Black, Cross and Green, flatter themselves in its platform that Bryan is a certain successor of Roosevelt in the White House. Michael J. Ryan, the eloquent presiding officer of that convention, evoked cheer after cheer by his eulogies of Bryan and his confident prediction that he will be the next president of the United States and that the outcome of the election in Pennsylvania will foreshadow that result.

Democrats Looking Ahead.
Arrangements have been made to have a large representation of leading Democrats from Pennsylvania at the great Madison Square Garden reception.
The Bryan men in every county in this state have taken on a new lease of political life and are showing new vigor in their political work for Emery and the entire Democratic ticket. They are devoting particular attention, to the Democratic and Lincolnite favorites for congress in the several districts in which candidates have already been placed in the field.
They are quietly presenting arguments to the old line Bryanite Democrats for them "to stand by Emery and the whole fusion ticket" in order that the defeat of the Republican party in Pennsylvania this fall may be pointed to as a signal endorsement from the very citadel of Republicanism of what they are pleased to characterize as a great popular uprising for the election of Bryan to the presidency.
Bryanites Almost Fanatical.
In this connection the enthusiasm of the followers of Bryan in his own state of Nebraska is pointed to as emphasizing the feeling that exists in the hearts of his admirers throughout the country. Press dispatches recounting the scenes of the joint convention of Democrats and Populists of Nebraska held at Lincoln a few days ago all tell of the almost fanatical exhibitions given by some of the leading delegates.
Law-abiding, peace-loving and conservative citizens of Pennsylvania, who are being invited to join the Bryanites of this commonwealth in their efforts to record a vote of repudiation of the Roosevelt administration and the Roosevelt ticket at the coming election through the defeat of the Republican candidates in Pennsylvania by fusion or other games of political manipulators, should read and reflect upon the sensational speech made by the presiding officer of the Nebraska convention. Then they should consider how far a triumph for the Emery-Donnelly-Ryan-Black-Cross-Green fusion combination at the November election would go toward promoting the cause of Bryanism throughout the country.

Visions of Blood.
This is what Chairman Skiles, of the Nebraska convention, said:
"The time is speedily coming when by the advice and command of the American people the guilty highwaymen, the scoundrels of the poor and mockers of the courts will be brought to their knees in humble submission by an outraged people. It may take revolution, it may take bloodshed, but in my judgment it need take only the courage, determination and backbone of an American president, who will enforce the criminal laws of the United States against the multimillionaire and cabinet officer as drastically as against the most humble citizen in this nation. Such a man is coming, he is our neighbor—that intrepid, ceaseless, tireless fighter, the great commoner and defender of human rights, William Jennings Bryan, the young gladiator of the west, who, 10 years ago, struck the first deadly blow ever aimed at the heart of plutocracy in this country."
Mr. Skiles then pictured the American people waiting to vote for Bryan for president, and foreshadowed in the returns of the state, as coming to be held this fall in all parts of the country an emphatic demand for the "Great cause of Bryanism."

Stockholders' Inspector Reports
on the Progress of the International Lumber and Development Company

The Stockholders of this Company recently elected one of their number, Dr. Andrew S. Stayer, of Altoona, Pa., to go as their representative, to their Mexican plantation and make a full report on its development. This report is now ready. Dr. Stayer says, in part:
TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE INTERNATIONAL LUMBER AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY:
I believe that the dividends on the whole capital stock of this Company, as guaranteed, can be paid for years to come from the timber now standing in the forest on this estate. No one not having ridden through these forests and viewed the timber can form the least conception of the amount there is there and in computing the value of this fabulous amount of timber you must take into consideration that it is of much more value than woods used for the same purpose grown in the temperate climate. If there were no other source from which to draw dividends, I would feel perfectly safe in saying to you that you need have no fear on this subject, as the guaranteed dividends can be paid from this source alone, but there are many other sources of dividends. Principally among them is:

HENIQUEN
There is no doubt about the value of this product. I have carefully studied this subject and cannot find any reports or estimates that give the net yield per acre at less than $50 or $60, except in the literature of the Company while all the estimates given me verbally in Yucatan and Campeche place the figures much higher. Ten thousand acres planted to heniqueen would produce a ten per cent dividend; 20,000 acres planted to heniqueen would produce a 20 per cent dividend, and so on. (Preparations made to rapidly plant 12,000 acres. Over one million plants growing and six millions contracted for.)

LIVE STOCK
Beside wool and heniqueen, large amounts of money will be realized from the sale of cattle, horses, mules and other live stock grown on the estate. The expense of growing these is limited to the wages of a few cowboys who look after them.
RUBBER, ETC.
There are now at least in the neighbor hood of 500,000 wild rubber trees, of all sizes and ages, large numbers of which are now ready for tapping. Later on, if the same plan is pursued in extending the planting of rubber from year to year and the value of rubber keeps on increasing as it has in the past few years, thousands of dollars will be turned into the treasury from this source, besides the large profits to be derived from bananas, dyewood, the gathering of chicle from the zapote trees, the gathering of the rubber from the wild rubber trees scattered through the forest, and from the profits derived from selling goods from the Company's stores to the thousands of people who will reside on this plantation. Besides those above mentioned, there are smaller amounts of money coming in from many other sources. The system adopted on the plantation is such that really nothing is touched or handled that does not produce a profit.
In prescribing to you this report of the first inspection, I feel that my descriptions are inadequate and that I have not done justice to this great property, but have the intense satisfaction of knowing that I have been able to bring to you the information that ought to satisfy you; that your investment is entirely safe and destined, without a doubt in my mind, to bring to you a life income. I regret that my fellow-stockholders could not have been present to see for themselves what I have seen. June 22, 1906. (Signed) ANDREW S. STAYER

Every investor should read Dr. Stayer's report from cover to cover. Every person interested in a life income should have a full knowledge of the I. L. & D. Co's proposition.
The Company Guarantees 8 per cent. Dividends payable semi-annually. Has paid 18 per cent. since Apr. 1, '05
Much larger dividends are estimated on full development of the property. Dividends have already been paid as follows:
July 31, 1906, 2 per cent extra
January 31, 1906, 2 per cent extra.
April 1, 1906, 4 per cent. (Guaranteed) and 1 per cent. extra.
October 1, 1906, 5 per cent. (Guaranteed) and 1 per cent. extra.
A Dividend of 4 per cent. will be paid to Stockholders of Record October 1, 1906
This dividend is paid from profit realized from the Comshare. In a short time the price will be increased. Over 200,000 shares of the Comshare are now being sold. At the present price it will not be long until all is sold and the opportunity and chance to obtain shares at par and at a profit is gone. Act at once if you wish to obtain shares at par and at a profit. Write to-day for free copy of Dr. Stayer's report—a large and handsome booklet illustrated with over forty photographs.
