Rural Carrier Hess and Mrs. U. Z. Geib of Rapho, Have Eloped

The Manheim Sentinel of Friday, tells the story of an elopment as fol and wife.

In another column of this issue Mr. U. Z. Geib, a well-known prominent citizen and registry assessor of Rapho township, publishes a card warning the public against seen by the engineer of the special trusting or harboring his wife, Sarah When within a short distance the Geib, on his account, as she has left his bed and board without just

The annual conference of the U. pretense of visiting a sister at Lititz | Kauffman. whom she told him was ill, he never dreamed of what was coming.

When she did not return in th evening he became worried, fearing omething had befallen her. The his brother-in-law, Mr. Horace L. S. Flowers. Pritz, and not being able to learn he whereabouts of his wife went home. In the meantime, he learned of the disappearance of Mr. Hess, Then only did it dawn upon him that possibly their intimacy had ripened into more than ordinary friendship and that they might have gone away together.

Mr. Geib's trip home was with a neavy heart, and he was almost posi ive that if his Sallie had left him, she would have left behind a letter telling him so. He set about hunting for it, and, sure enough, he found one last Friday. In it after addressing him as "Dear Husband," she tells him she has gone for good bless him and the children.

Mrs. Geib is gone and has left behind a faithful husband and a large family of children. She is less than forty years of age, and was a daughter of the late John Traub, of this Borough.

E. M. Hess left his home on the Saturday previous to Mrs. Geib's disappearance. He took with him all the ready cash he could get together, and since then nothing has been heard of him, although a numknow of his whereabouts. Mr. Hess is at least forty-five years of age, and left behind an estimable wife several of whom are married.

Both the alleged elopers are believed to have taken with them nice sums of money, and they will no doubt live in "clover" as long as the cash lasts. Where they have gone no one knows, and hardly any care. Mr. Geib will at once begin proceedings in divorce, and it is ikely that Mrs. Hess will do likewise. Both families have the sympathies of the community in their troubles.

Sheriff Ziegler on Friday sold the personal property of E. M. Hess, of Rapho township, for $686.20.

Several years ago Hess gave his wife a judgment note for $650. After Mrs. Hess learned of the elopement, she entered the judgment she held against her husband, which, with in terest, amounted to $1,081.17.

She realized the above amount Nothing has yet been learned as to the whereabouts of Hess and Mrs. Geib.

Boxing to Open at Lancaster

The Lancaster Athletic Club will open the season on Thursday, Oct. 18, and throughout the Winter all shows will be held on Thursday nights, which is the best in the week by far. Hensel & Schlichter first started boxing in Lancaster seven teen years ago and for the past seven years they have had shows once every month. They have built up a reputation by holding good entertainments which are equal to those of much larger cities and they will not stand for fakes or crooked fights The bill will appear later.
