The Union Picnic

Many Mount Joy People Spent Yesterday at Rocky Springs

Tuerday was Mount Joy's day at Rocky Springs, the occasion being the union picnic of all the Sunday Schools. The weather was exceedingly pleasant and could not have been better suited to the occasion had it been ordered. The factories, manufacturing plants, general stores and groceries were closed in order that all could be given an opportunity to attend.

As early as 5.30 people departed for their destination but the Sunday Schools in general left between the hours of 7 and 8 a.m. A number of extra cars were required to get the crowd to Rocky. A special freight car conveyed all the baskets down at 8.30 and returned with them in the evening.

Sixteen cars were required aside from the regular cars, to get the crowd to Rocky. In the evening the people began arriving home as early as four o'clock.

The day was very pleasantly spent. Roller skating, bathing and riding on the "Figure Eight" together with the Roof Garden and the game of ball at Rossmere. attracted the majority of the crowd. It is estimated that almost 2,000 people took part in our annual picnic. A large delegation from the rural districts were in evidence.

Up to this time we have not heard of a single accident that occurred yesterday and this was one of the most successful union picnics ever held by the Sunday Schools of the borough.

Much credit is due the committee that spared neither time or trouble in making the event a success.

Required Seven Heats

That M. G. Myers' chestnut gelding is a good one, is true beyond a doubt as he demonstrated at Wllmington, Del., on Thursday. It required seven heats to decide the race, the heats being 2.22, 2.22½, 2.21, 2.21, 2.23¼, 2.16, and 2.28 1-2. The horse finished in the following order in the heats: 7, 4, 8, 3, 1, 1, 2. The Philadelphia Press contained the following: One of the greatest contest ever witnessed upon a local race course marked the close of the three days' race meet of the Delaware Horse Show Association at Wawaset Park this afternoon, when seven heats were required to decide the winner in the 2.25 pace. The contest was between Sidney B, the brown gelding owned and driven by Hugh Moore. of Mortonville, Pa. and the handsome chestnut gelding of M. G.
