Mark to Be Erected on Site of Burial Place of the Martyred President's Ancestors.

In an abandoned graveyard in the heart of Worcester village, in New York, are the graves of the grandparents and the great-grandparents of the late President Garfield. Worcester was the father of the president, left the place for Ohio at 12 years of age. Three generations of the family lived there. Solomon Garfield, the great-grandfather, settled in Worcester in 1766. Thomas Garfield, the grandfather, was born in Worcester in 1775, and lived his whole life there.

After a bitter fight a bank has secured the right from the town to build a new banking house on the old cemetery property. The excavation has been made and the foundations are in course of construction. The burying ground covered a quarter of an acre, and it was not known just where the graves of the martyred president's ancestors were located. When the Garfield family was appealed to they decided to leave the matter to the citizens.

James Nelson, a resident of Worcester, has in his possession a letter from President Garfield, written shortly before his assassination, wherein he expresses a hope to be able soon to visit Worcester and attend to the last resting places of his ancestors. One of the places which he was intending to visit on his trip he was about to take was Worcester.

Don't Wait For The Fatal Stages Of Kidney Illness. Profit By Mount Joy People's Experience

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attack may pass off for a time but return with great intensity. If there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swellings below the eyes, bloating of limbs and ankles, or any part of the body don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old time health and vigor will return. Cures in Mount Joy prove the effectiveness of the great kidney remedy.

Mrs. Frank Conrod, living on Main St., Mount Joy, Pa., says that: It would be hard to describe all the misery I endured from kidney complaint and I really think I had all the symptoms that attend this most annoying disease. There was a continual pain across the small of my back which made me tired all the time, so that I could not attend to my housework. I also had dizziness and dizzy spells, became easily tired and was subject to a constant feeling of fatigue. I was rapidly growing worse when I was told to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at E. W. Garber's drug store. I had taken but a few doses when I was feeling a great deal better. Thus encouraged, I continued their use and my health is now better than for a long time. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no others.

DEATH RATE OF INFANTS.

It Is Increasing in Spite of the Best Efforts of Modern Science.

In spite of the increase in the Pasteurization of milk, in spite of the fact that in some circles of society there is a growing knowledge about the care of infants, the death rate of those under two years all over the country, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, is so large as to cause great alarm. One of the most eminent specialists announces:

"If 100 mothers of sound health would agree to submit the entire care of their infants to one direction I warrant that not one of the children would, if properly brought into the world, die of summer disease."

This is an astonishing statement, but it can be practically verified by nearly every practitioner whose experience with the children has been large. It seems strange that though the human race is thousands of years old, there is so little knowledge on the part of mothers as to the proper care of infants. It is because every mother depends on herself, her instincts or the poor experience of others to help her children through the critical portion of the year. In these days physicians are doing their best to inform mothers that the use of raw milk in summer time is dangerous—almost criminal. Especially is this the case in that portion of the city where children never get fresh milk. Little milk is served in this city that is not 24 hours old and since much of it is not kept on ice the process of souring begins soon.

This process is effected by the extraordinary development of bacteria, which affect the intestines of children and bring on that long list of summer complaints. Wherever there is intelligent care taken of children and wise supervision is exercised there is no more fear of dysentery in the summer time than there is of smallpox. Yet many thousands of children die every summer because of neglect. There is no mother in this city so poor that she cannot send a postal card to the board of health for its instructions on the subject and to follow them out only costs less than the ordinary practice, but is sure to result in benefit to the infant.

The difficulty in impressing mothers is the fact that they assert that they know more about children than any doctor who ever lived and insist upon practices which are certain to bring disease and probably death. It is time to start a school of instruction for mothers.

The Spirit of Christmas

At no other period of the year do human hearts with such an eager yearning for the lasting memories of the old homestead greet the older and the merry greetings of the happy reunion about the festal board of the cedar, the witchery of the holly, the lurking sentinels of mistletoe, all combine to make a lure well nigh irresistible.

It is the season of reunions and foregatherings, and parting. The zest of travel is rife, for apart from the home and social exchanges it is a holiday time for many and pleasant excursions to be made, where sightseeing has a relish from the prevalent gaiety and good cheer.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is always popular at holiday time. Its system is so far-reaching, and at the same time so interwoven with the needs of the traveler; its trains are numerous and so well equipped for the accommodation of all classes of travel, and its ticketing arrangements so satisfactory that it might be termed the Santa Claus route.

Its Limited trains carrying the highest grade of travelers are completely appointed in every detail, offer exceptional advantages to the children going home from school for the Christmas vacation. The boys naturally gravitate to such trains; they will find every comfort and safeguard, as well as a man to obey their command.

No matter whither bound it is wise to consult a Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent as to trains and rates. He can start you right; the rest will be easy.
