The regular meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening with Messrs. Longenecker, Zeller, Mumma and Burgess present. A communication was received from the Solicitor asking the Council what it intended doing with the poll tax proposition made by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies. These companies refuse to pay their poll tax of 50 cents per pole but offered to pay 10 cents for every pole in the borough. Referred to the solicitor Burgess J. W. Shrite reported that his collections for the past councilmanic month amounted to $62.50.

Mr. Greider of the Street committee reported as follows: Macadamizing on Columbia Avenue is now completed from Delta to Barbara street; pipe on Walnut street at Columbia Avenue does not carry off the surface water, and recommended that the Chestoga Traction Company be notified to raise its tracks five inches. Referred to the Street committee. Macadamizing on Old Market St. is completed to Bube's crossing and that Mr. Bube still runs water into the gutter on said street.

Mr. Greider stated that some time ago he investigated the waste water situation from the Market street sewer and although there was no surface water in sight at the time, a large amount of water was flowing from the sewer pipes just mentioned. Also that he understood that individuals had connected with the borough's sewerage and for that reason would recommend that the borough lay pipes on Old Market street to carry off Mr. Bube's waste water. Recommendation stricken off.

Chairman Longenecker stated that complaint was made relative to the condition of West Main street in front of the Miller property and also the Bopp property. The clerk was instructed to notify these parties to put the street in denly, one of the men of dismay as the wind almost shook him. He uttered a sentence the which was "broken."

The two girls took refuge in the lee of the Tract Society building and held a consultation. A stream of people was passing along Nassau street, and the nature of the mishap seemed to call for delicate treatment. Then, while the girl who had shouted held the umbrella turned toward the rushing throng, the other girl knelt down on the wet sidewalk and began fumbling with her companion's skirt.

A dapper young man stepped out of the passing throng. "Pardon me, Miss, but can I be of any assistance?" he asked, raising his hat.

The feminine repair department came to an abrupt halt. "No, thank you," came in chorus from both girls.

"But, really, you should not kneel in the rain like that," pursued the young man. "Do let me fix the shoelace."

"Please, please go 'way," implored the kneeling one. "It isn't her shoelace—"

And the young man lost himself in the crowd.

INFLUENCE OF GREAT MUSIC

It Can Move More Profoundly Than Any of Nature's Great Voices.

Great music is a psychical storm, agitating to unimaginable depth the mystery of the past within us, says Lafcadio Hearn. Or we might say it is a prodigious incantation, every different instrument and voice making separate appeal to different billions of prenatal memories. There are tones that call up all the ghosts of youth and joy and tendencies—there are tones that evoke all phantom pain of perished passion—there are tones that resurrect all dead sensations of majesty and might and glory—all expired exultations—all forgotten magnanimities. Well, may the influence of music seem inexplicable to the man who idly dreams that his life began less than a hundred years ago! But the mystery lightens for whomsoever learns that the substance of self is older than the sun. He finds that music is a Necromancy, he feels that to every ripple of melody there is a billow of harmony, that within him out of the Birth some eddying ancient pleasure and
