INDIAN TRIBES ARE ALLIED.

Cheyennes and Arapahoes Have Always Been More or Less Closely Associated.

From a very early period the Cheyennes and Arapahoes have been more pr less associated with each other, ays the Arapahoe Bee. They seemed to have lived more or less in the same localities. moving from time to time from the same general causes. Their language is essentially different, so they do not understand each other, except as they have learned each other's language. This, in many cases, they have done, largely through the sign language, which is common to western Indians. These two tribes have largely intermarried. These intermarriages have existed for many There are many cases of men 50 years old and more, speaking both languages, who can say that they are half Cheyenne and half Arapahoe. Like the Cheyennes, the Arapahoes have been divided, a portion of the Arapahoes now being on a reservaion in Wyoming, while others associ sted with the Chevennes are now in klahoma. POLITICS IN HUNGARY.

Coalition Parties and Emperor Are at Variance on Use of the Language.

An extraordinary political situation exists in Hungary by reason of the refusal of the coalition parties, which are in the majority, to accept the responsibilities of government. At the reopening of the diet, September 15, states Youth's Companion, Premier Fejervray announced the resignation of the cabinet and the prorogation of parlia ment until October 10, whereupon the lower house adopted a resolution protesting against the prorogation as unconstitutional. The coalition parties insist upon the use of the Hungarian language in the Hungarian regiments. The emperor of Austria-Hungary will not sanction the change, on the ground that there must be only one language for the whole imperial army. Meanwhile the recruiting system of the country is checked, and under the orders of the coalition leaders there is a widespread passive resistance to the payment of taxes. It is intimated that the emperor will seek to solve the difficulty by proclaiming a wife extension of suffrage, the effect of which would be greatly to increase the zumber of Slav votes, and thus to diminish or destroy the present Magyar ma
